Rush work on new dial phone building at Arlington Heights

"Sorry we're noisy" says Illinois Bell Telephone company, on a sign at the scene of its new building project in Arlington Heights.

The big hole in the ground pictured is the reason for the sign. No, it's not the start of a grand canyon, but of the new two million dollar dial telephone exchange, hoped to be completed sometime in 1952. It is located on the northwest corner of Vail and Eastman sts.

Bearing with the company's problem are residents living on the east and north boundaries of Scarsdale, who must use the above pay station located in the 500 block on S. Dryden when they want to do any telephoning. Mrs. Robert Thybony of 506 S. Dryden is using the phone, while her neighbor, Roy Thompson, awaits his turn.

The booth serves 40 new homes unable to get individual phones due to the shortage of space for switchboard equipment in the present plant.

Additional booths are at 914 N. Beverly, Arlington Heights, and on Rand rd., Prospect Meadows. Authorization has been given for four additional booths.

The company has started work on installation of 600 pair cable at Central and State rds., in preparation for dial service.

CITIZENS ADVISORY GROUP FAVORS ENLARGEMENT OF TREATMENT PLANT

Suggest use of general bonds for one-fourth of total cost

The advisory committee named by Mayor Goedke last fall to make recommendations covering the sewage treatment plant, the advisability of joining the Chicago Sanitary District and the method to be followed in financing the project presented its report last week to the mayor and village board.

Since the committee was originally appointed the village has asked that the water supply problem be also studied.

The committee favors the handling of both projects, amounting to a million dollars, by the village, with financing by means of a $250,000 general obligation bond issue and the balance by a combined sewer and water revenue bonds.

The group made an extensive study, held many meetings and includes in a 7-page report a resume of evidence gathered explaining how its members arrived at its decision.

The report does not include an estimate of the "sewer use" cost to the average water user, except that in the estimation of its members that cost to the house holder would be less than the possible Sanitary District tax.

Because of its importance the report is herewith published in full.

Report of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Sewage and Water Problem of the Village of Arlington Heights — April 16, 1951.

At the meeting of the village council held Monday, September 11, 1950, there was referred to the Mayor's Advisory committee for investigation and report the question of how best to solve the problem of treating Arlington Heights' sewage. In a study of this problem, the following questions were to be considered:

1. Shall the village seek to enlarge and improve its present sewage treatment plant?

2. Shall the village seek annexation to the Sanitary District of Chicago?

3. If, upon investigation, the committee considered it advisable for the village to enlarge and improve its present treatment plant, how best to finance the improvements.

Recently the committee was advised that additions to the present water system of Arlington Heights were urgently required and the committee was asked to include in its report recommendations regarding the financing of this improvement.

The Mayor's Advisory committee is comprised of Nicholas M. Lattof, chairman; William E. Sauer, secretary; and Chas. L. McCoy, Carl M. Teutsch, Willard C. Walters, Chas. H. Wilson, and James E. Wood. Nat Burfeind was added to this group at the mayor's request. Mr. Wilson and Mr. McCoy were unable to attend meetings or serve on the committee in this matter.

The committee had its first meeting September 14, 1950, at which time it considered a preliminary report made to the village by Consoer, Townsend and Associates, consulting engineers. The committee has met on ten separate occasions to consider this problem. It has called into consultation Peter F. Girard, chief design engineer of the Sanitary District of Chicago, who is a resident of Arlington Heights, Warren Fellingham, vice-president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank in charge of its investment division, Mr. Consoer and Mr. Townsend, consulting engineers to the village, and Hugo Thal, village attorney, and has had the cooperation of Forrest Davis, village clerk, and William Meyer, village treasurer. Stuart Paddock also met with one committee on several occasions. Individual members of the committee have consulted with Langdon Pierce, chief sanitary engineer for the Sanitary District, and with C. W. Klassen, technical secretary and chief sanitary engineer of the Department of Public Health of the State of Illinois Sanitary Water Board.

Present village sewage treatment system

Arlington Heights has what is termed a combined sewage treatment system; that is, one system of trunk sewers which handles both storm water drainage and spent water waste. Spent water waste is a term applied to sewage coming into the trunks from the homes, stores, offices, and industries in the village connected to the sewer system. It is measured approximately by the amount of water delivered daily by the water department to the homes, offices, stores and industries in the community. In Arlington Heights, approximately 500,000 gallons of water is pumped daily to these users, and estimates indicate that approximately a total of 450,000 gallons finds its way into the sewage system carrying waste matter. This waste matter requires treatment to prevent contamination of Weller creek and the Des Plaines river, where the effluent or outflow of the sewer is directed.

Surveys of the sewage offered daily to the present sewage treatment plant indicate that the dry weather flow for the past year has averaged three million gallons per day. The engineers, Consoer, Townsend & Associates, planned for the enlarged sewage treatment works, approved earlier by the village trustees, a treatment works capable of handling three million gallons per day, or six times the present spent water waste of the village. This seeming disparity in the capacity of the plant to the measurable spent water waste of the village gave the committee concern and it was the first subject matter of investigation. The committee has found from its investigation that the difference between the expectable spent water waste of 450,000 gallons daily and

Advisory committee recommendations

The committee has spent much time in considering the advantages and disadvantages of both solutions to our problem. A minority of the committee favors joining the Sanitary District for reasons listed above. However, the committee makes the accompanying recommendations by majority vote:

1. That the village of Arlington Heights expand its own sewer treatment facilities in accordance with plans submitted by Consoer, Townsend and Associates at an estimated cost of $644,000. The representations to the committee on the parts of the engineers and comment from some of the experts consulted by it indicate that the design is practical, economical and adequate, and it has had the approval of the State Sanitary Water Board.

2. That the village of Arlington Heights proceed immediately to authorize the construction of a relief sewer on the south side of the village in accordance with the plans prepared by Consoer, Townsend and Associates estimated to cost $56,000.

3. That the village of Arlington Heights proceed immediately with the improvements suggested for its water facilities at an estimated cost of $275,000.

4. That the cost of the foregoing improvements estimated at a total of $975,000 be financed as follows:

   a. By the issuance of $250,000 of General Obligation bonds, which by statute would be payable in 20 years from general taxes.

   b. By the issuance of $725,000 Combined Sewer and Water Revenue bonds, payable from the revenues of the sewer and water departments over a period of 38 years.

5. That the bonds issued to finance the proposed improvements be callable at the option of the village before maturity as funds may be available for that purpose.

6. That the village consider the enacting of an ordinance providing for a connection charge of approximately $100 for each new user coming into the system.

The committee recommends this change in the plan for financing of the foregoing improvements incorporated in the Sewer Revenue Bond Ordinance repealed in September, 1950, for the reason that financing the whole improvement solely from the revenue of the sewer and water departments would permit the vacant and unimproved property in the community to escape sharing in the cost of such improvements. The recommended change would place a fair share of the cost of such improvements on industrial and commercial users who would profit from the growth of the village.

Clabaugh to head superintendents' round table

Community Camera

R. E. CLABAUGH

Ralph E. Clabaugh, Superintendent of Public Elementary schools, Arlington Heights, was honored Saturday, by being elected president of the Superintendents' Round Table of Northern Illinois.

CLABAUGH has served as secretary to this organization three different times and as vice-president one year. Mr. Clabaugh came to Arlington Heights as superintendent of schools in February 1943. His academic background shows that he received his Bachelor of Education Degree at Charleston State Teachers college and later the Master of Arts Degree at the University of Illinois in 1937. Since that time, he has attended Northwestern university where he has completed about one year of advanced work toward the Doctor's Degree. In 1941 he served as president of the Lake Shore Division of the Illinois Education Association.

The Superintendents' Round Table of Northern Illinois is considered by many as the outstanding educational organization of its type in America. Its membership includes elementary, secondary, and college and university men directly associated with the administration and supervision of institutions of an educational nature.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: vice-president, Robert E. Ricketts, Superintendent, District 124, Evergreen Park, Ill.; secretary-treasurer, Harold H. Metcalf, Superintendent, Bloom township high school, District 206, Chicago Heights, Ill.

Representative Charles W. Clabaugh, chairman of the educational committee for the House of Representatives, a cousin of Mr. Clabaugh, was the speaker at the Superintendents' meeting last Saturday. Representative Clabaugh stressed the importance of this legislation and pointed out that the best school legislation ever to have been presented to the legislature in his experience was before the House and Senat at this session.

High school students get out early to see MacArthur in Chicago

Arlington Heights township high school will operate on a shortened schedule today, Thursday, in order that students may be dismissed at 11:15 a.m., to see General Douglas MacArthur either on television or in person in Chicago.

Students at the Junior high school are grateful to Don Hager's Electronics service for the use of the television set last Thursday, which enabled them to view General MacArthur as he gave his speech to Congress.

PAPER DRIVE SATURDAY

The second monthly scrap paper drive conducted by the Arlington Heights Cub Scouts will be held Saturday.

Citizens are asked to tie old newspapers, magazines, and cardboard cartons in bundles and place at the curb for the scouts to pick up.

Lose hour as DST begins Sunday morning

It will be later than you think as you waltz your gal around the floor another time, play extra rubber of bridge, or just relax at home in front of old faithful TV Saturday night.

As Saturday fades away into the wee hours of Sunday morning it will be time to set that clock ahead one hour, which will herald the arrival of daylight saving time for another year. (Just found a quick way to get back that hour of sleep we lose—sleep two extra hours Sunday morning.)

Morning commuter trains leave earlier

Commuters who are in the habit of catching trains on the run in the earlier hours of the day will have to leave home from two to four minutes earlier with daylight saving time. New time cards effective Sunday advance the leaving time of the 6:42 (Palatine) to 6:37; the 6:46 to 6:42; the 7:56 to 7:55; the 8:02 to 8:00. Above cover departures from Palatine. Arrival time in Chicago is the same as previously.

The only big change in south bound trains is the one which formerly left Palatine at 11:21 a.m. It now leaves at 11:02 a.m. with arrival time in Chicago at 11:55, 15 minutes earlier. The last Chicago bound train has been delayed 15 minutes, leaving Palatine at 10:43 p.m. in place of 10:28.

Three Sunday trains which formerly left Palatine at 11:00, 12:55 and 3:44 will now leave an hour later.

North bound trains show little change except the former 8:20 p.m. train out of Chicago, now leaves 10 minutes later.

Palatine and Arlington Heights lose their first Sunday morning train which now makes stops at Park Ridge, and Des Plaines with next stop Barrington. The first Sunday morning train that stops at Mt. Prospect at 10:22, Arlington Heights at 10:28 and Palatine at 10:35.

YOUNG ADULTS SPONSOR SQUARE DANCE FRIDAY

A square dance sponsored by the Young Adults of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will be held April 27 at the South school, 8:15 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Suburban mail to arrive by trucks after July 1st

Local postmasters received this week tentative schedules for the arrival and departure of all, except helicopter, mail after July 1. Suburban areas served are Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Barrington.

The weekday schedule includes three deliveries from Chicago and two dispatches to Chicago. Truck departures from Chicago will be 4:30 a.m., 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Arrival at Arlington Heights after stops at intervening points will be about two hours later.

There will be only two dispatches of mail, both in the afternoon, leaving Barrington at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

SUNDAY service will continue at the Arlington Heights post office with truck leaving Chicago at 9 a.m., leaving Barrington at 1 p.m. on return trip.

No mail for these towns will be handled by the railroad. The vehicles to be used will be 30 ft. trailers. The postmaster is expected to provide a safe place under lock and key where mail can be left when office is not open.

Lack of unloading platforms and ample alleyways at Arlington Heights and Palatine for large trucks may put a further strain on business parking.

The postal transportation service admits that some adjustments in service may be necessary as the proposed schedule shows only the minimum service required.

Where oh where has my little dog gone?

"Dog's life" in Arlington Heights isn't what it used to be as of Tuesday, when the two newly hired village dog catchers arrived on the scene.

Several surprised pooches were herded into the "paddy wagon" and hauled off to the dog pound, but their masters shouldn't have been the least bit surprised because they had been previously warned the dog catchers were coming. Tickets were made out by the police department for owners of dogs that could be identified.

A $5 bond will retrieve the dogs, and owners will have to make a settlement in Judge William Neuman's court. Fines are set at a $3 minimum and $5 maximum. Owners whose dogs do not have a village license will also be requested to pay the license fee.

Dogs will be kept in the pound for three days. If they aren't claimed they will be turned over to the Orphans of the Storms.

In the past the Arlington Heights police department has been flooded with dog complaint calls. The department did not have the proper equipment for picking up the dogs and made an appeal to the village board to revamp the existing dog ordinance to have it provide for the services of a dog catcher and the erection of a pound. With the new system now in effect it is hoped that the dog problem in Arlington Heights has been solved.

Plans for additional school divulged by president of board

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of District 25, Robert Lockwood, president of the Board of Education, and Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, discussed the schools' problems resulting from growth in enrollment.

Lockwood reminded the parents present that the citizens had last fall authorized the purchase of an additional school site on the south side. This site was chosen by the board, he said, only after an exhaustive study of possible tracts on this side of the district and was the only site which could be purchased as acreage. No bonds were issued to pay for the five acres purchased, as sufficient funds were already available.

Lockwood described how, following the purchase of the site, the board had proceeded to study present and estimated enrollment figures to determine how many classrooms should be constructed on the new site.

AT PRESENT, the school district's architects are preparing drawings and specifications for an 11 room building for the new location. It is hoped that these can be completed and presented to the voters for approval in the early summer, so that construction may be completed during the 1951-52 school year.

Supt. Clabaugh discussed the figures shown in the two accompanying tables as they were projected on a screen before the audience.

In table I are shown actual end of year enrollments, except for the present year. The growth of a particular group of children from the last day of school in June, 1946, to April 6, 1951, or until they finished fifth grade (the highest grade in the South school) may be seen by reading horizontally across the table. The increase in numbers in a given grade from year to year may be seen by reading diagonally across the table.

Mr. Clabaugh called attention to the fact that the South School kindergarten group (this year's fifth graders) has doubled in number since the close of their kindergarten year. Younger groups seem to be growing at an even greater rate.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT in the South school, as shown by the table, has grown from 210 June 7, 1946, to 472 April 6, 1951. Most of this growth, the table reveals, has occurred within the past two years.

Table II, which is based on actual enrollments and preschool census figures, shows the present building needs of the district. The number of classrooms needed for each group of children, based on present enrollments, is found by reading horizontally across the table. The number of classrooms needed for each grade level is found by reading diagonally across the table.

The present South school has 12 classrooms, which must at present serve all kindergarten through fifth grade pupils south of the railroad. Table II shows that, by 1952-53, 22 classrooms will be needed to house these pupils.

EVEN NEXT year, the South school will be short four, and possibly six, classrooms. At present over 100 kindergarten children are served by the one kindergarten room in the South school, and three second grade teachers must work in two classrooms because no other room is available. Although only two fifth grades will move out of the South school to the Junior high school at the end of this year, four first grade groups must be formed from the present kindergarten groups.

Efforts are being made to find suitable quarters for next year's South school kindergarten classes so that all classes can be housed without the necessity of establishing double sessions in the building above first grade.

The board has expressed their hope that all members of the community will study the figures presented, and that they may have the continued support of the community in their efforts to provide for this unprecedented growth in the number of boys and girls to be taught.

Herald 'snaps' four mayors serving Arlington Heights the past 44 years, 1907 to 1951

Community Camera

Arlington Heights has had only four mayors in the past 44 years. They are all living, and when J. D. Flentie, of Pasadena, Calif., arrived in town last week for a hasty visit, it did not take long for Paddock Publications to get them together for the photographer. As they shook hands with each other, they showed that none of them retained any enmity over political battles of yesterdays.

These men, shown above from left to right are Albert F. Volz, 1907-1909, 1913-1915; J. D. Flentie, who served from 1909 to 1941; Albert Goedke, 1941-1951, and P. J. Mors, 1909-1913 and 1915-1927.

Mr. Mors served 16 years, Flentie 14 years, Goedke 12 years when his term expires and Volz four years.

All the mayors received their apprenticeship by serving as village trustees. Albert Volz served as a member of the board for six years; P. J. Mors, for six years; Julius Flentie, for four years, and Albert Goedke, for eight years.

Ex-Mayor Flentie, after five years absence, had discovered that his home town had become a young city. As Julius recounted to his friends the advantages of California, those friends pointed to the progress Arlington Hts. is making. The home folks readily admitted that California must be a healthy place because J. D. looked younger than ever and in turn the visitor from California admitted that Arlington had done a lot of growing.

The village of Arlington Hts. held its first organization meeting May 2, 1887. John E. Wood was elected the first village president April 17, 1888. Mr. Wood was elected to serve one year. Succeeding mayors, elected for two-year terms, were J. B. Hawkes, 1889-1891; Charles Sigwalt, 1891-1893; W. H. Sisson, 1893-1894; Charles Sigwalt, 1894-1897; F. W. Muller, 1897-1899; Charles Sigwalt, 1899-1905 and H. C. Klehm, 1905-1907.

Local Citizens group favors enlargement of treatment plant the 3,000,000 gallons daily offered to the sewage treatment plant was accounted for by the surface water infiltration into the sewage system.

A report from Consoer, Townsend & Associates to the committee shows that the area north of Grove st., which drains into the north branch of the west trunk sewer, contributes approximately 500,000 gallons of water infiltration per day. The area between Ridge and Patton ave. on both sides of Grove st. contributes approximately 200,000 gallons of subsurface water per day. An additional 400,000 gallons of infiltration is discharged daily into the east trunk sewer from the area known as Arlington Manor and McIntosh's Arlington Heights farms. This accounts for 1,100,000 gallons per day of such infiltration and the remaining 1,400,000 gallons are believed to be contributed by farm drainage entering the sewers where the sewers come to the surface of the ground in the extremities of the village and where the drainage enters through drain tile by provision made for such entry over the route of the main trunks.

A communication received from the State Sanitary Water board, C. W. Klassen, technical secretary, dated September 19, 1950, indicated the belief that it would be more economical to make sewer connections to eliminate excess waters than to provide storm water capacities at the sewage treatment works. The committee conferred at length with the village engineers and with engineers from the Sanitary District of Chicago and others concerning this recommendation.

In a report to the committee from Consoer, Townsend & Associates, dated November 6, 1950, the village engineers, having determined that a system of diversionary sewers for this infiltration would accomplish diversion of not more than 1,100,000 gallons per day, stated as follows:

"The foregoing measured infiltration flow volumes total 1,100,000 gallons per day, which could be eliminated from the sewere system at the present time by constructing facilities for intercepting these flows and removing the ground water from the present sewer system. However, cost estimates which we have made for the necessary construction work involved to accomplish this, and thereby reduce the size of the proposed sewage treatment plant units accordingly, indicate a project cost in excess of $900,000 as compared with the $700,000 program now under consideration. In addition to the increased construction cost, we would like to point out that any facilities construction at this time for the purpose of intercepting the farm tile drains would probably be obsolete as soon as these areas are developed because home construction operations would undoubtedly destroy and block off much of the existing farm drain tile.

"We are of the opinion that as soon as the previously mentioned undeveloped areas have been urbanized by constructing homes, paving streets and sidewalks, etc., these areas will become more impervious, thus allowing rain water to be carried rapidly to the sewer system on the ground surface rather than seeping into the ground and entering the sewer system underground over a long period of time as it presently does.

"In the case of Arlington Heights our investigations indicated that physically the sewers are in good shape with very few leaky joints and no apparent breaks in the pipe. The openings through which the infiltration enters. were made for that purpose at the time the sewers were constructed."

In a letter to the committee from the Sanitary Water Board, Klassen stated that the Sanitary Water Board reviewed the preliminary design date and information obtained by the engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend & Associates and, reported to that consulting engineering firm the agreements or disagreements as the Sanitary Water Board saw them in the proposals.

The following is quoted from the letter of Mr. Klassen: "In general it may be said that the basis of design was agreeable to us and any recommendations that were made were primarily confined to details of the design. One of the principal recommendations was that every effort should be made to make a thorough study of the sewer system in order to eliminate ground water infiltration in areas where it proved to be excessive."

After a study of the report by the village engineers dealing with the expense of diverting or eliminating excessive infiltration from the sewage system, Mr. Klassen stated the following in a letter to the village engineers dated November 2, 1950:

"In your February 1950 preliminary report, you pointed out that diversion of ground waters appeared to be more economical than providing expanded treatment facilities. Your recent analysis, based on more detailed investigations and full measurements, indicate that the problems of intercepting ground water flows would tend to increase costs beyond that involved in expanding treatment facilities. Our review of these data convinces us that your analyses are sound and the decision to provide additional capacity at the sewage treatment plant is the only one you can reasonably follow if project costs are to be kept within the estimated amounts.

"In our opinion, reduction of infiltration is more desirable than expanded treatment facilities, but, in this opinion, we do not insist in this case that, regardless of cost, such course must be followed. We recognize that the more desirable course is not necessarily the last expensive."

Having thus determined to its satisfaction that it was not practical to avoid building a treatment works capable of handling six times the present spent water waste of the village, the committee turned its attention to a consideration of the advantages and costs of annexing itself to the Sanitary District of Chicago.

The Sanitary District of Chicago

The Sanitary District of Chicago is a municipal corporation having jurisdiction and control of the waters and drainage within the city of Chicago and municipalities contiguous thereto which might by referendum annex themselves to the district. It is charged with responsibility of disposing of sewer waste within its area without contamination of the waters and streams in the district. It has had a long history, the act creating it having been approved in 1889, and it is generally recognized as an efficient and capable municipal body.

Since its creation, more than 70 communities in Cook county have annexed themselves to the district for the purpose of disposing of waste and for all of the problems of sewage treatment. One of the most recent annexations was Mt. Prospect. Since Mt. Prospect became annexed to the Sanitary District, the village of Arlington Heights is now contiguous to Mt. Prospect and is elegible for annexation. Annexation could be accomplished by an act of the village trustees authorizing the presentation of a bill for annexation to the legislature in Springfield. Upon the passing of that bill annexing the village, publication could be made in a local newspaper for a period of time and if in that period of time no dissent to such annexing was filed by the required number of taxpayers residing in the area, annexation would be complete and the problem of sewage treatment within the village would be solved.

Consultation with the engineers of the Sanitary District indicated that by the construction of an intercepting sewer from the limits of Mt. Prospect, the site of the present sewage treatment plant, the sewage of this community would be drawn off into the sewage treatment plant maintained by the district in Summit. In the interval between the date of annexing to the district and the time when that intercepting sewer is constructed, responsibility for the maintenance and operation of the present sewage treatment plant would be that of the Sanitary District. The Sanitary District obtains its revenue by ad valorem taxation, that is, taxation of the real and personal property within its area. The 1950 rate of such taxation for the Sanitary District is 30.6. The present assessed valuation of the property in Arlington Heights is $23,000,000 in round figures so that the present annual cost of disposing of the problem of sewage treatment by annexation to the district would be $70,380 per year. The advantages and disadvantages of joining the Sanitary District will be discussed in detail below.

Advantages of joining the Sanitary District of Chicago

The proposed financing over a period of 38 years is considered too long by some members of the committee. They recommend that the period should not be longer than 20 years, in which case the annual cost to the taxpayers would be lower by joining the Sanitary District.

It would be possible for the village to obtain water from Chicago in the future.

Annexation would deal with the sewer problem with finality, releasing the village of the possibility of future trouble that may arise out of the contamination of Weller creek or any other cause.

The indebtedness of the village would be increased by only about $200,000, whereas financing our own sewer would increase the indebtedness by $644,000. The increase in village indebtedness may result in higher interest rates on bonds issued in the future for needed improvements by any taxing body in the village.

The cost of sewer disposal would be spread over all properties in the village, vacant and improved, both residential and commercial.

The possibility of noxious odors emanating from the sewer treatment works would not arise.

While taxes paid the Sanitary District would be deductible from personal income tax, sewage revenue fees would not be deductible by residents of the village.

Advantages of having our own plant

In view of the life expectancy of the sewer treatment plant, the proposed financing of part of the cost over a period of 38 years is not considered excessive by the majority of the committee.

With the method of financing listed above, the total cost of operation, maintenance and debt service annually will be measurably less than the annual cost of annexation to the Sanitary District.

Furthermore, while the annual cost to the village in operating its own plant would be more or less constant, the annual total amount of taxes paid to the Sanitary District would increase with the increased annual assessed valuation occasioned by the expected growth of the village.

The need of water in the village is immediate and has to be handled locally. Getting water from Chicago involves the cooperation of municipalities intervening between our village and the nearest Chicago outlet, which is Park Ridge.

By adding to and improving our present plant, we would be taking advantage of existing and paid for plant valued today about $200,000, for which the village would receive no credit in the event of annexation.

A new book of timely interest is "War In Korea" by Marguerite Higgins, the young war correspondent for the New York "Herald Tribune." Like Ernie Pyle, she gives us an up-front, personal report of the human side of the war. Brief sketches of Generals MacArthur, Walker, and Dean, and many other officers and GIs are included. The book is illustrated with 32 full page photographs.

In order to combat the great danger of Communism to our civiliatizon, a thorough knowledge of facts is important. There is a grave danger of under-rating it, and we should realize that its strength often lies in its power to attract intelligent people. "The Theory and Practice of Communism" by R. N. Carew Hunt tells what Communism is, how it began, how it developed, how it has been modified in practice, and how it attempts to gain world power.

A small book called "War and Civilization" by Arnold J. Toynbee, gives in easily readable form, Toynbee's comments on the danger of militarism, as selected by Albert Vann Fowler from Toynbee's six-volume "A Study of History."

Another new book of great historical significance is "Seven Decisions That Shaped History" by Sumner Welles. He tells here the inside story of the great diplomatic decisions that set the pattern of our postwar world and outlines the course he believes we should now follow.

Episcopal Woman's Auxiliary of Diocese of Chicago sponsors 2 meetings

Miss Betty Miles, chairman of the Religious Education and Service committee for the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, has announced two different meetings sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Chicago. All church women are invited to attend.

May 9, the annual meeting of the Woman's Auiliary will take place at the Bishop McLaren Foundation in Sycamore, Ill. The purpose of the annual meeting is to hear reports of the combined work and services of the parish groups and to discuss and decide policies concerning work for the coming year.

The meting will begin with registration at 9:30 a. m., followed by holy communion at which Bishop Charles L. Street will be the celebrant. Rolls and coffee will be served afterward. The annual meeting will be called to order at 11:30 and luncheon will be held at 1 p. m. At 2 p. m. Bishop Wallace E. Conkling will give an address and preside at the installation of new officers. The $2 registration fee will cover both breakfast and luncheon.

May 11, the Evening Division of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese will hold its annual United Thank Offering Ingathering and business meeting at the Church of the Redeemer in Chicago. Dr. Herbert Koepp Baker of the University of Illinois Medical Center will be guest speaker.

There will be an evensong service at 6:30 when the United Thank Offerings of all the evening branches will be presented. Rev. F. William Lickfield, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, will conduct the service. Dinner will be served in the parish hall following the evensong service at a cost of $1.25 per person.

A group from St. John's will be attending both meetings and will provide transportation. Those interested in going should call Miss Betty Miles of Arlington Heights or Mrs. George Adam of Prospect Heights.

G. C. Page, a long-time resident of Arlington Heights, has again been promoted by Sinclair Refining Company. H. L. Lussow, Sales Manager of the company and also a resident of Arlington Heights, recently announced Page's promotion to Manager of the Madison, Wisconsin area.

Page started with Sinclair 25 years ago as a salesman at East Chicago, Indiana. Varied assignments during this period covered sales work at most all of the Company's branches in and around Chicago, leading to his being appointed assistant to Lussow at Chicago in 1950. E. W. Dougherty of the Chicago office will succeed Page as one of Lussow's three assistants in Chicago.

About 200 of his associates were present at a dinner held in his honor at Chicago recently, at which time he was presented with a going away gift.

Page recently sold his home on Belmont ave. to purchase a new residence at 843 Dunton ave. in Arlington Heights.

Warson Beauty Shop has a new boss

Max Warson, who established the Warson Beauty Shop 20 years ago is going to be able to do a bit of fishing or hunting when he feels so inclined hereafter. He has sold his shop to Alfred Martin, a well known hair stylist of New York and Chicago, where he was for many years with Helena Rubinstein and Charles of the Ritz.

The announcement of the sale does not mean that Mr. Warson has retired. He will continue his work in the shop that will also continue to bear his name.

"I have had a desire for some time to be relieved of the responsibility that rests upon the owner of a beauty salon," he told the reporter Tuesday. "I feel myself fortunate in being able to introduce to the women of this area my successor, who has won several awards and first prize trophy in hair styling in national competition, is a past director of Illinois Hair-Dressers' association and has an experience in individual hair styling that I feel will be welcomed by the women folk."

Many patrons of the Warson Beauty Shop have already met Mr. Martin as he has spent the last two weeks with Mr. Warson.

"I know that I am going to like Arlington Heights," Mr. Martin says, "and I will be most happy to serve the women folk of the community."

Seven injured in two accidents near Palatine

A weaving car caused a bad accident on Route 14 at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

Sid Emberg, 32, 3624 Wayne ave., Chicago driver of a car that "weaved" into the outside lane of the opposite traffic, is blamed by Howard Deny, Walker, Minn., for a head-on collision that occurred on Northwest hwy. between Wilke and Rohlwing rds.

Passengers in the Deny car were Adeline Deny, his wife, Daniel Taylor and two children.

Officer Frank Meyer of Palatine notified by a taxi driver of the accident called two ambulances and the county police. Those injured were taken to the Elmhurst hospital, from which they were discharged Tuesday.

Deny told Cook county highway police that he saw the oncoming car weaving from side to side and slowed down to 20 miles an hour in an attempt to avoid the accident.

WALTER J. Dowswell, Kirkhaven, Mich., is in a serious condition at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, as a result of an accident that occurred at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Routes 53 and 12, northeast of Palatine.

M. L. Kenley, who resides near the intersection of Arlington Heights and Dundee rds. was traveling northwest on Rand rd. when the Dowswell car went through the stop sign and hit the Kenley car with such force that it was turned over three times and landed in a field 100 feet from the point of collision.

Kenley was thrown out of his car but was partly pinned down by the car's running board. A passing motorist took him to a Barrington physician, who administered first aid and directed him to return for X-rays the following day.

In the meantime, Sgt. Marcoline of the state police, and Officers Simpson and Maloney checked all hospitals within a radius of 40 miles before they located Kenley, who had returned home.

Mr. Dowswell was accompanied by his wife, who was thrown out of his car. As it spun around she was hit and thrown over the car's hood. She has many injuries, cuts and bruises.

Spectators say that it is difficult to understand how anyone escaped death. Dowswell faces possible arrest for his failure to obey the stop sign.

Lads 'shake in their boots' as they rob tavern of $200

Early Monday morning 4 boys of high school age entered the Candle Light House Tavern, Wheeling, and after ordering and eating sandwiches, confronted Mrs. Ruth Swanson, the owner, with a single barrel shot gun and held her at gun point against the wall while they ransacked the tavern.

They took approximately $200 in cash and some liquor. When they were ready to leave they locked Mrs. Swanson in the washroom. They also cut the cords on the telephone receiver, which, however, did not prevent her from calling the police. Mrs. Swanson was unable to arouse her husband, who was sleeping upstairs and had to break the washroom door in order to get out.

The boys drove up in a light colored new model car and appeared to be very nervous. The boy holding the gun shook so, Mrs. Swanson was afraid he might accidentally pull the trigger.

Des Plaines river scene of two drownings

Two Chicago lads, probably in search of their first real adventure of spring, lost their lives Monday afternoon by drowning in the muddy Des Plaines river, just south of Devon ave., near River rd.

The boys, John Barkulis, 10, of 4919 Marmora ave., and Richard Braginski, 13, of 4937 Marmora, left their Chicago homes Monday afternoon, taking a bus to the Forest Preserve area near Devon ave. Their parents became alarmed when the boys did not return home that evening and notified police.

AN IMMEDIATE search was begun, the first clue as to their whereabouts coming with the discovery of their clothing near a tree in the river bend just off Devon. Members of the Forest Preserve Maintenance department, all experienced river men, manned life boats and began dragging the river.

They worked far into the night and all day Tuesday. County rangers, including Lt. Dan Conway, as well as volunteer firemen from Des Plaines and Park Ridge, were on hand to help in the search. The body of John was recovered at 3:30 p.m., Tuesday. Richard's body still hadn't been recovered as this paper went to press.

Richard Gleason, in charge of the boat detail, said that the spot where drowning occurred was near the same place where five youths drowned earlier this year.

Pick Mrs. Charles Berry chairman for June 12 doughnut tag day

Mrs. Charles V. Berry, 1636 N. Highland ave., has been appointed Arlington Heights chairman for the Salvation Army's annual Doughnut Day, June 12. Her appointment was announced today by Mrs. R. Bruce Wiseman, Harvey, suburban chairman of Doughnut Day.

As chairman of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Berry will be in charge of the volunteer taggers who each year assist in raising funds for the many social services the Army offers to the needy and distressed.

Mrs. Berry urged Arlington Heights women to volunteer a few hours of their time to sell tags on June 12. Volunteers should apply at Doughnut Day headquarters, 188 W. Randolph st., RAndolph 6-9272, or call Mrs. Berry at Arlington Heights 1921-J.

Mrs. Berry has appointed two Arlington Heights women to serve as co-chairmen with her. They are: Mrs. Charles Kelly, 1506 N. Vail ave., and Mrs. John Meyer, 1555 Highland ave.

Mrs. Berry belongs to the American Legion auxiliary Merle Guild Unit 208, Women of the Moose, Des Plaines Chapter 835, Wilson school PTA, and Ladies of Arlington Knolls Community club.

SCIENCE IN THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

By NELSON LOWRY

Three years ago the Science Department moved into the four new rooms they now occupy which are the envy of science teachers who visit us. We were at that time in the beginning stages of re-organizing the science curriculum to better meet the needs of our students.

We recognized that the students coming to us were getting a good background in the fundamentals of science education. A few schools were not teaching much science at that time but science has become an important part of the curriculum of all the elementary schools. General science was dropped from the high school list of subjects because this science subject matter was studied in the elementary schools.

BIOLOGY is now required in the ninth grade replacing general science. In this course the student has experiences in the laboratory and gets a basic understanding of his physical and mental development which is important if he is to understand himself and find his place in the world of today. It is the understanding one has of his environment that enables him to grow and be a better citizen in the community in which he will eventually live.

In the tenth grade physical science is offered as an elective for those students who will take no more science in high school as well as for those who will take the advanced courses and possibly continue with science in college. A study of science can do much to develop a well-rounded individual in giving the "how" and "why" for various happenings and answers to questions of many of the developments of modern science. Physical science should be of practical value to every student no matter what his plans for the future may be. Many practical experiments with laboratory equipment in the physics and chemistry labs are given during the year.

In the junior and senior years students may elect chemistry, physics and advanced biology. These courses are planned for those students who have special needs, such as meeting a requirement for college entrance or for those students that have a special interest in the subject. We now have many students who are taking four years of science. Some of these students plan to go to college while many others do not.

SCIENCE courses provide an opportunity for the student to explore more carefully his interests and aptitudes in science. Interests may develop that will lead to vocations, and many life long hobbies are developed. Projects are an important part of the science courses and students are encouraged to do them for class work. If there is a special interest science students are encouraged to join one of the science clubs.

Our students have done well in the Illinois Junior Academy Science exhibits held each spring. In the district held this spring at DeKalb, all of our students entered won a first or second place rating. We expect to take nine students to the state meet to enter their projects in competition with those from other high schools in Illinois. During the past three years two of our students received honorable mention in the National Science Talent Search and two were selected among the top forty high school science students in the U. S. These two winners received scholarships in addition to their all-expense trip to Washington, D. C. to meet top scientists of the nation.

The laboratories are well equipped for the study of science. A complete photographic dark room is available for use at any time. Each class room now has a number of books that students may use in addition to the fine collection of science books now being placed in the library. The school has had a transmitting station in operation at different times. The green house, which is a part of one of the biology rooms, is kept well stocked with plants for study as well as making this a place of beauty.

Since we have dropped general science, substituted biology in the ninth grade, and have added the new physical science course in the tenth grade, our science curriculum has received national recognition as one of the better programs in the country.

School Dist. 59 calls special election May 19 for rate increase

Residents of Consolidated School District 59, Elk Grove, will be given an opportunity on May 19 to make an important decision affecting the future of the Elk Grove School in that district. By resolution of the Board of Education an election has been called for that date to vote on a proposed increase in the maximum educational fund tax levy, from seventy-five to ninety cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. A public hearing on the question has been set for Friday, May 4, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the school, Higgins and Touhy rds.

IN ANNOUNCING the referendum the board pointed out that such an increase in the maximum rate does not mean an immediate levy of the 90-cent rate. In fact, it is believed that even under the new limit, the next levy which will be reflected in the tax bills a year from now would be only a few cents per $100 valuation above the present levy of 75 cents.

With continued growth of the school, however, and the steady increase in the cost of teachers' salaries, supplies and other expenses, a gradual increase above the present 75-cent limit will be required. This is particularly true if the financing of the district is to remain on a cash basis without the use of interest bearing tax anticipation warrants so common in many other districts.

IN THE SCHOOL year 1949-50 one full time teacher was added, and this year an additional part-time teacher was employed. Another teacher will be needed next fall in order to split the present third-fourth grade class, and a further increase can be expected until there is at least one teacher for each grade. Meanwhile the cost of fuel oil, desks and other equipment, cleaning supplies, paper and other items, all of which must be paid for from the Educational Fund, has gone up steadily.

While economy of operation has always been an aim of the Board, its first obligation is to provide a sound and thorough education for the increasing numbers of children in the district. It is hoped that both the public hearing and the election itself will see a large turn-out of parents and those who may not now have children in the school but who are also interested in the progress of the district. In addition, the president, Kenneth Dougan, and other members of the Board will be glad to discuss the problem with anyone concerned.

Extend deadline for OPS price charts till May 30

Businessmen have been given an additional month to file list price charts with the Office of Price Stabilization, it was announced this week by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. The original deadline, April 30, has been extended to May 30.

Firms which have not received a copy of the regulation applying to their business, may obtain one at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Farm Bureau building. The government does not furnish the regulations unless requested by businessmen.

Completed charts should be mailed, registered letter, to the Office of Price Stabilization, 9 W. Washington blvd., Chicago.

Housewives, businessmen urged to ask for solicitors' credentials

Mrs. X of Arlington Heights was taken for a ride this week when she paid two solicitors $27 for supposedly wool material, which turned out to be nothing but rayon valued at $5.

If she had asked that these solicitors show their credentials, authorizing them to sell from door to door in Arlington Hts., before buying she would not have been stung. If the person is canvassing for donations he must have a permit from the Chamber of Commerce.

Housewives and businessmen alike are urged to ask solicitors to show their business license or permit before buying anything. Any solicitor not having the proper credentials should be reported to the police immediately.

However, just because the village or Chamber of Commerce has issued the solicitor a license or permit does not mean they are recommending that citizens buy from them. It simply means that they have gone through the proper channels, including being investigated, before they were allowed to sell their wares in Arlington Heights.

Lions club safety committee urges repair of faulty auto mechanism

His lights flickered off for only an instant, but in that time a pedestrian stepped in front of his automobile. The result—another death due to improper vehicle maintenance!

This incident, pointing up the vital importance of keeping cars in perfect mechanical condition, was related yesterday by J. Lohr, of the Arlington Heights Lions club Safety committee. In announcing that the Lions Safety committee this month is promoting the April theme of "Operation Safety," a program for reducing traffic injuries and deaths. The program is sponsored by the National Safety Council.

"UNSAFE automobiles driven by negligent drivers figured in 12 per cent, or approximately 3,300, of the nation's fatal traffic accidents in 1949," Lohr said. "This is tragic when it is remembered that most faulty automobiles could be put in safe working condition in only a few minutes, and at little cost."

Lohr reported that poorly aimed or defective lights, bad brakes, worn steering mechanisms or worn tires are the chief faults of unsafe automobiles. He urged every motorist in Arlington Heights to have these mechanical features checked by a competent mechanic at least twice a year. Rear and stop lights, windshield wipers, muffler, window glass, horn, and rear-view mirror should be inspected likewise, he said.

APRIL IS THE logical time for checking a car, Lohr urged. The city's streets and the highways soon will be teeming with pedestrians and drivers taking advantage of fine weather and starting their vacations.

"The motorist who gets his car in good mechanical condition now may be saving some youngster's life—perhaps even his own life, or some loved member of his family," Lohr said.

Another important reason for keeping one's car mechanically fit, Lohr pointed out, should be apparent to those who were faced with the problem of keeping the family car running during World War II years. Today's international situation places a premium on the car that is kept in dependable mechanical condition.

Lohr had this word of advice for every motorist, "Remember, good drivers drive safe cars. So wise up . . . check up . . . fix up!"

Official charter to be given to Arlington Barber Shop quartet

The official charter for the Arlington Heights Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., was approved by the Society's International office and will be presented to the officers of the chapter at a public meeting to be held May 25 at the high school auditorium.

President George Glow has announced that applications for membership will be received now and on that occasion, from additional interested men and that the charter membership of the chapter will be held open until after that meeting.

A MEMBER need not be a singer, although that helps. He can be one who wants to learn to sing with other men, either in a quartet or a choral group, or who is content to listen to close harmony as sung by his fellow members. A member must, however, pledge himself to work diligently for the aims and purposes of the Society and must be willing to help the chapter, in any way that he can, to contribute to the civic, patriotic and community welfare of the city.

A fine example is the fact that the society's hundreds of quartets and choruses throughout the land, made thousands of good will appearances before groups of service men throughout the war—and are now busy "entertaining the wounded and sick in army and navy hospitals. Thus what began as a hobby has grown into a medium of usefulness that its founders never contemplated.

All men who like to sing or listen are invited to come to Room 206 in the Arlington high school where rehearsals are presently being held on Mondays at 8:30 p.m.

Notice of Election

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Saturday, the 19th day of May A. D., 1951, a special election will be held in and for Community Consolidated School District No. 59, Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said School District the following proposition:

Cook Co. grand jury indicts two Arlington high school boys

The two Arlington Heights high school boys who confessed last week to their participation in the robbery of the Hummel-Downing plant in February, 1950 repeated their story before the grand jury and were indicted.

Due to the intervention of friends and in which the local police department concurred, the charges against them were reduced so that they would be eligible for probation. Judge hearing the case warned the boys that their offense was serious. Date for the trial has not yet been set.

RENDEZVOUS WITH DESTINY

Last week a friend of mine said, "I was disappointed that you did not say anything about MacArthur." . . . In the first place, this column is usually written a week in advance—so that prevents any "flash" news or comments. In the second place, a great many people were talking and writing—and I felt they were far better qualified to know the intricacies and the many different angles of the situation. . . . However, after listening to MacArthur's historic address to the Congress I can, at least, give my own personal re-action. It is simply this: for a long time we have needed a great and brilliant man to head not only our own nation—but to lead the world, as well. General Douglas MacArthus is that man!

His 52 years of military service have made of him a great and legendary figure, but I have felt luke-warm toward any suggestion that he be offered the presidential nomination. . . . Historically, great military leaders have not proven to be great presidents, and I felt that the two kinds of jobs required two different kinds of men. . . . For one thing, MacArthur seemed to have a "cold" personality; he seemed remote and withdrawn, a dweller on Olympian heights! . . . Now, however, he has come back home—back to earth—and to television!

I would like to embark on our journey into the future with a pilot whose convictions are honest and straightforward, who is sustained by the wisdom gained by long experience in human affairs and a sincere faith in God. . . . The American people must ignore his closing quotation—"An old soldier never dies, but just fades away"—and its implication. . . . MacArthur is not the man to "fade away"; destiny decrees that he "stay in the saddle—and die with his boots on!"

TREASURE TROVE

If you are thinking about spring housecleaning as being a disagreeable task, you may be interested in a story that comes from Pennsylvania. . . . On the site of the encampment where George Washington's ragged (and hungry!) soldier spent the terrible winter of 1777, has been erected a very beautiful commemorative building called the Valley Forge Memorial Chapel. This church is just one of a number of famous landmarks in the Valley Forge Memorial Park; but the "housecleaning" story concerns an old barn-like structure hidden away at the rear of the chapel. . . . For countless years it has served as a catch-all for all sorts of junk. Housewives, in that vicinity, cleaning out attics, cellars and closets, would send to the "barn" anything that even looked like it might be "historical." . . . As a result—and over a period of time—this building has come to be "filled to the brim" with a heterogeneous assortment of boxes, barrels, bundles, old furniture, clothes and bric-a-brac of all kinds. Over all, lay a thick accumulation of grime and dust.

This spring, in March, several ambitious women descendents of revolutionary families, decided that the old structure should be cleaned up and put in order—so they rolled up their sleeves. . . . Because of the dust, one woman decided to work out of doors. She carried out a number of cartons and packages; among them, a box covered with brown paper and tied with a string. She unwrapped the package and unfolded a piece of green silk brocade. She wondered about it, but didn't see any special significance. Just then, a breeze playfully whipped away a scrap of paper that had been hidden away in a fold of the cloth. She muttered "O, darn!" or some such thing—and chased after the paper. She unfolded and read it and to her shocked amazement found that the note identified the shawl as being a part of Martha Washington's wedding dress! . . . But there was more—much more—to come; in fact, buried and forgotten treasures are still being unearthed in the old barn. . . . Three more of Martha's shawls were found in that particular package—and then was found a vest and a ring, identified as having belonged to General Washington.

To date, a list of priceless relics includes the following: several letters written by Washington; letters written by Henry Clay and Lafayette (written in French); organ pipes played at St. Paul's church in New York at the service after Washington's inauguration as President; a collection of autographs of the signers of the Declaration of Independence; old money, including a five-cent bill. . . . There will undoubtedly be many more "finds" and it will take months, and perhaps years, to properly identify and catalogue the huge assortment and to put the various items where they belong—in a museum. . . . But in the meantime, this just goes to prove that housecleaning can be interesting! Not many of us are apt to find any Washingtonian treasure-trove—but you might find a valuable antique, some old money—or some historical old clothes. . . . Even if you only find something that you've misplaced (and needed) you'll feel rewarded for your effort. . . . Now, do you feel "pepped up" about the whole deal? . . . Oh, well—I tried! As a matter of fact, just getting rid of dirt and putting things in order gives every woman a lot of satisfaction!

THE MAIL BAG

Mrs. C. L has a good word to say for "Brownie" as packaged by PY-O-MY. Just add one-third GRAPEVINE — GAL 2 ..... cup hot water and a handful of chopped nutmeats. Perfect results, every time! . . . Virginia D. speaks about a new Swift's product—Loin Luncheon Steaks —(frozen beef). Two nice tender steaks (good-sized portions) for 63 cents. She says they are, by far, the best of the frozen steaks —and she buys them by the dozen. . . . Carol D. says she tried the Lemon Pie (last week's recipe) and it really was "out of this world." However, she would like to know how to keep the meringue "pie shell" from sticking to the pie plate? . . . Anyone have a suggestion? . . . Mine stuck, too—and I had to scoop it out. Now let's have your ideas, your news, your suggestions.

Tax books close this week

The 1950 tax books are closing in the country towns this week, and anyone who has not yet paid their taxes and wants to get their payment to the local collector should do so at once.

Those who wait until the May I deadline will find themselves too late to make payments at the local tax offices and will have to pay in Chicago.

The local collectors have been on the job for a month or more, and collections all over the county up to the first of the week were far behind those of last year.

A big last week rush in progress this week will help to raise the totals.

Penalty date on the first installment and on the personal property tax bills is May 1.

Local collectors' offices will be open in August for the second collection for which the penalty date will be September 1.

FFA to hold annual family banquet April 27

The Arlington Heights Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will hold their annual family banquet in the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m., April 27. J. D. Bryson, vocational agriculture instructor and F. F. A. adviser, will lead the group in singing. He will be accompanied at the piano by H. W. Grace, athletic director. Ron Botterman, president of the group, will extend a welcome to the parents, and the response from the parents will be made by A. Moellenkamp.

"THE FOUR HORSE-MEN," a barber-shop quartet composed of Stan Myers, Dan Krebsbach, Fred Jasper, and Barney Erickson, will present a group of selections. Marvin Engelking will present some old-fashioned concertina music. Dorothy Poc will give a few selections on her electric guitar.

Ronald Botterman, assisted by the other F. F. A. officers, Herbert Reckamp, LeRoy Moellenkamp, Kenneth Jacobson, and Arnold Grimm, will confer the degree of honorary membership on LeRoy J. Knoeppel, high school principal. Don Linneman, state vice-president, who was president of the local chapter last year, will make a few remarks to the group.

The main speaker of the evening will be Dr. E M Hughes, who will be remembered for his excellent talk at the Arlington Heights Kiwanis club banquet last February, at which farmers and businessmen in this area were guests.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Fleury, Jr. 734 N. Belmont ave.

The Fleurys call Savannah, Ga., home although they last lived in Greenfield, Mass., and previous to that were residents of St. Louis for seven years. They have been in Arlington since November, when they purchased the William A. Schoppmann home.

Mr. Fleury is factory representative for the Greenfield Tap and Die corp. The family has two children, Bernadine, who is 13 and a seventh grader, and Benjie, six and in first grade. Both children attend St. James school.

Though remodeling their house takes up their spare time at present, Mr. Fleury is an ardent golfer when he can squeeze it into his schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox 425 S. Vail ave.

New, new neighbors of only a week, the Wilcox family say they settled on Arlington because of friends out here who are so enthusiastic "they're like members of the Chamber of Commerce."

Though the Wilcoxes say fixing old houses is one of their hobbies — they completely remodeled the one they moved from in Chicago — they're now settled in a brand new brick ranch style home.

Mrs. Wilcox is a native of Montreal, Canada, and they met while Mr. Wilcox was stationed as a naval officer with the United States embassy at Ottawa. He is employed as a mechanical engineer by the Mixing Equipment co. in Chicago.

This couple has three children, Joan, 5½ and a kindergartener at South school; George, 4, and Michelle, 8 months.

Palatine PTX attracts visitors of other towns

Approximately 75 persons who sold clothes through the Palatine PTX since its opening early in February received cash payments in the first "pay-off" last Thursday. Those who received notices but were unable to pick up their payments April 19 are asked to come for their envelopes April 26.

Ever since the Palatine Parent-Teacher Association opened the PTX (exchange for children's good but outgrown clothing) several hundred customers have taken advantage of the excellent values to be found in this unique shop. PTX is open every Thursday morning while school is in session, from 9:30 to 12:30 in the Wood Street school office. Shoppers from Arlington Heights, Barrington and other nearby communities are evidence of its growing popularity.

Sales records show that good clothes bring good prices, while out-of-style items go begging. For example, many excellent teen-age suits with skirts too short to meet the present-day trend are being withdrawn from sale because of lack of customer interest. PTX announces a new ruling: skirts size 12 and over must be at least 27 inches long to be accepted in stock.

Dress-up, school and play clothes for both boys and girls, from sizes 4 through 10, are in great demand. Mothers who wish to dispose of good spring and summer clothes in these sizes are urged to bring them in at once for quick sale.

No items will be accepted after May 10, as PTX will close for the summer at the end of the school year.

St. James Mothers' club bake sale Sunday

The Mothers' club of St. James Catholic school, Arlington Heights, will sponsor a Sunday morning bakery and delicatessen sale April 29 from 7:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. in the school building, 821 N. State rd.

According to Mrs. Louis Ray, president, the Sunday morning sale provides an opportunity to purchase homemade hot rolls or coffee cakes for a special Sunday breakfast treat or delicacies for a complete Sunday supper.

The proceeds of the sale will be used to provide new playground equipment for the children of St. James school.

Rubbish pick up

The annual spring clean up in Arlington Heights will begin Monday, May 7, and continue throughout the week.

Residents of the village living south of the railroad tracks are asked to have their rubbish at the curb and in containers Monday morning, May 7. Residents living north of the tracks should have their rubbish in containers and on the curb Wednesday morning, May 9.

Railroad Spikes

Spikes of various designs were used from the earliest period of railway development, but the hooked-head spike, which is used today by railroads throughout the world to fasten steel rails to crossties, was designed in 1831 by Robert L. Stevens, the first president of the Camden & Amboy Railroad (now part of the Pennsylvania) in New Jersey.

Herman Fues, Bernice Lorenz exchange vows

Bernice Marie Lorenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lorenz of Kirkwood, Mo., and the second baseman for the Music Maids, became the bride of Herman E. Fues, son of Mrs. Emil Fues of Mt. Prospect, April 14.

Rev. Fisher officiated at the ceremony which took place at Concordia Lutheran church in Kirkwood. The altar was adorned with candelabra, ferns, palms and baskets of lilies, snapdragons and carnations.

The bride wore a white satin and lace gown with a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headpiece of brilliants and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Carol Fues, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a green taffeta and lace gown with capsleeves and carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations with a pink taffeta bow.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gilbert Lorenz of Kirkwood, Mo., sister-in-law of the bride, and Nira Deputy of Des Plaines. They wore pink taffeta and lace gowns with cap sleeves and carried yellow and white carnation bouquets with green taffeta bows.

The bride's mother wore a dark blue crepe gown with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a dark blue crepe gown trimmed with sequins and blue accessories. She also had a corsage of pink carnations.

Robert Lorenz, the bride's brother, was best man, and the groomsmen were Ronald Fues of Mt. Prospect, brother of the groom, and Roy Goebbert, also of Mt. Prospect.

Reception for 225 guests was held at the Lions Den in Valley Park, Mo. After a honeymoon touring the South, the couple will reside in their apartment in Chicago.

Prospect Heights firemen host to neighboring fire departments

The Prospect Heights fire department was host last Friday to members of the Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Wheeling, Forest River, and Des Plaines departments for an informative meeting on special phases of fire fighting.

About 50 men listened to S. G. Brown, from Aurora, representing the Scott air pack mask and the E. & J. resuscitator makers, give some valuable information on their use. Mike Dalton from Barrington explained his product, Unox, manufactured by the Union Carbide and Carbon Company. It is a chemical ingredient added to water to make it "wetter" and is the only one which has been approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

A film which had been prepared by the Los Angeles fire department illustrating the various methods of ventilation used in fire fighting was also shown.

Birthday Celebrations

Saturday, Donna Louise Siemro, daughter of Mrs. Fred Siemro, celebrated her eleventh birthday. Her guests were Carolyn Schuler, Patsy Weinrich, Barbara Schweeger, Donna May Luethje, Barbara Hayden, Christel Lux and Eileen Hoppe. Sunday relatives and friends dropped in to extend their greeting. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Malzahn, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nordmeier and daughter, Lynete, Bob Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckmar. and Mrs. Earl Ackerlund.

March 16, Ronnie Thompson celebrated his third birthday with his friends, Carol Mears, Karen Laseke, Guy Bergquist, Charlotte Whipple and Jimmie Shodgren. Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thompson.

Twelve little friends helped Kenny Miller celebrate his sixth birthday last Friday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller.

Trips

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moran and daughter, Mary Lou, motored to Indianapolis, Ind., last week end and helped Mr. Moran's mother, Mrs. Josephine Moran, observe her seventy-ninth birthday.

The Gustav Dueball family took Mrs. Dueball's mother, Mrs. T. M. Allen, home to St. Louis, Mo., last week end. They returned to Arlington Heights Monday.

Miss Margaret Colvin and Mrs B. J. Colvin just returned from an 18-day motor trip to the southwest. They also visited Memphis, Tenn., Arkansas, El Paso, Tex., and spent much of their time in Las Cruces and Santa Fe, N. M. Miss Colvin is feeling much better and plans on returning to the office soon.

A 10-day motor trip to Biloxi, Miss., and New Orleans, La., was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Evans. They returned home recently.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lindeman arrived home from a 16-day trip south. Five days were spent at the Hollywood Beach hotel, Hollywood, Fla., where they attended the fiftieth anniversary and convention of the Monarch Life Insurance company. Only the men who had made their special quota in business were invited to attend. While in Florida they visited the Cypress Gardens, and stopped at various points of interest in other states. While they were away their two-year-old son, Bobby, was taken care of by his two grandmothers.

Seventh birthday

Caroline Bradford celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday at a party for 12 of her friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bradford.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fellingham entertained the Robert Fellinghams of Tower Lakes and the Warren Fellinghams of Arlington Heights at a family dinner Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kenyon and family were dinner guests of friends in Chicago Saturday evening.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marx and family entertained at a dinner in honor of Miss Marge Kelly of Woodstock and Richard Edgen Jr. of Chicago, who are to be married this summer. Mr. and Mrs. James Burton of Oak Park were among the guests who attended.

A combination farewell dinner honoring the Theodore Drews and a birthday dinner honoring Paul Fellingham was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ehrke last Thursday evening. This was a cooperative dinner and was attended by the Paul Fellinghams, Theodore Drews, the Leo Hansons and the David Kenyons.

Fashion Show

Last Friday evening Mrs. John Huskey and her two daughters, Carole and Kathy, modeled at a fashion show of the Helene Sewing Studio held in Chopin Park. The models wore clothes which they had made themselves, with the exception of the party dresses worn by the three children, which were made by Mrs. Helene Hefty, mother of Mrs. Huskey, and who owns the studio.

House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utt and baby daughter of Toledo, O., visited Mrs. Utt's parents, the J. A. Johnsons for a few days last week.

Last week end the Frederick Webers entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. van Wagoner and their two children, and Prof. Stephens, music professor of Ann Arbor, Mich. They had been vacationing in Dallas, Tex., and stopped off to visit with the Webers on their way home. Mrs. Weber and Mrs. van Wagoner were former college classmates.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bailey of Quincy, Ill.

Farewell

This is your reporter's farewell. My family and I shall be moving to Houston, Tex., as soon as we sell our home. Residents of this community will be contacted in the future by Mrs. Anita Balfour, who lives in this neighborhood.

I want to thank everyone for their excellent cooperation in supplying news for this column. I sincerely appreciate the good wishes and kind remarks which have been made. Your reporter shall miss both the community and the column very much.

Local club women win honors at district meeting

Not only does the Arlington Heights Woman's club hold community service as one of its primary objectives, but it supports its membership to the Federation of Women's clubs by participation in many Federated club activities.

Last week at Albany Park, where the annual Seventh District meeting was held, a large delegation of local club members witnessed with pride the election of Mrs. Arthur H. Franzen as recording secretary of the District organization. Mrs. Franzen, an active local club member, served as chairman of the District's International Relations department the past two years. In this position she distinguished herself as an outstanding speaker on international affairs.

Mrs. Burton A. Noyes, parliamentarian of the local club and a past president of the District, was a member of the nominating committee which presented the slate of officers at this meeting.

On this day the Arlington Hts. Woman's club was honored when several of its members were called before this group of women, who represented 35 clubs, to be presented awards for outstanding achievement.

For excellence in creative writing, Mrs. George V. Warren received first prize for her nonfiction entry, "Snakes Alive." Her poem, "Meditation-1950," received a third prize, and her short story, "Valley of the Shadow,' won honorable mention.

Mrs. Harold L. Lussow received first prize for her book analysis of "The Late George Apley." This analysis will be entered in state competition. Mrs. Lussow's non-fiction entry, "We Took The Ski Lift to Mount Baldy," won a second place award.

Mrs. Fred Ainslie's short story "Always In the Pink," received third place honors.

These winning entries were read at last Monday's Literature and Drama study group meeting.

In the contest of scrap books which contain the clubs' publicity and history for the past year, the Arlington Heights club won first place in the Class A (clubs over 250 memebrs) division. This book also received recognition for being the best entry in the contest. Mrs. Fredrick C. Schmoyer compiled the scrap book.

Mrs. Milton C. Haase, who is president of the Arlington Hts. Woman's club and who attended all district board and regular meetings this past year, was in the line of Women's club officers to greet the new District president, Mrs. E. J. Heckel of Norwood Park, who succeeds Mrs. George Gschwindt of Palatine.

Others who attended this important meeting were Mrs. Norman W. Crandall, Mrs. J. C. Feddersen, Mrs. Raymond Landmeier, Mrs. Burton A. Noyes, Mrs. P. R. Ramsay and Mrs. Charles Stadelman.

Three Arlington Lions club queens

Up and Doing 4-H club

by HELEN GRIMM

The Up and Doing 4-H club had a waffle party at the home of Carol Busse, April 19. Guests were Mrs. Arthur Busse and Mrs. Edwin Deeke. The ingredients and the equipment needed was brought by the Public Service Company. Each girl was given a job. The four jobs were buyer, mixer, baker, and service and cleanup girl.

The meeting was held after the party. It was planned to have the banquet May 11. The meeting was then adjourned.

The main topic for the evening was flower arrangements. Marion Pytlik talked about different kinds of holders and vases for flower arrangements. Helen Grimm demonstrated how to make a corsage.

Nancy Honemann and Diane Deeke gave a talk about the care of teeth. Harriet Moellenkamp then asked questions about the topic.

Games were then played and later refreshments were served.

Inger-Marie Cosman is bride of Duane Granquist

Miss Inger-Marie Cosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cosman of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Duane C. Granquist of Itasca, son of Richard Granquist of St. Cloud, Minn., April 14.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Reinhold Heinrich of Naperville at the Evangelical United Brethren church in Itasca. Mrs. Donald Heinrich sang "Through the Years," "For Jesus' Sake," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Madsen at the organ.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a net yoke and ruffles edged in lace. The skirt was fashioned with an apron effect with lace-edged ruffles. Her headpiece of white roses and carnations held in place a fingertip veil, edged with lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid in the center.

The maid of honor, Miss Lorraine Gathman of Itasca, wore a light green taffeta dress and carried a colonial bouquet of tea roses and white carnations. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Robert Cosman of Barrington, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a light pink taffeta dress and also carried a colonial bouquet of roses and carnations.

Lawrence Biesterfeld, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and Robert Cosman, brother of the bride, was an usher.

The bride's mother wore a red and grey crepe dress and a corsage of red carnations while the groom's sister wore a white and orchid dress and a corsage of yellow carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors. The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Minnesota and upon their return will make their home at 26 W. Busse, Mt. Prospect.

Who Catches Cold?

The "weaker" sex is truly so in susceptibility to the common cold. A recent Gallup poll showed that more women suffer from colds, and are actually incapacitated by them, than are their husbands and brothers.

Barber shop quartets plan May songfest

Arlington Heights chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will be formally presented a charter May 25, at the high school auditorium, at 8:30 p.m.

The program will include songs by the Arlington Heights chorus, the Lombard chorus and their quartets; the present state championship quartet, the Village Airs of Palos Heights; the Medicine Men from Waukegan, and the former National championship quartet, the Mid-States Four.

THIS PROGRAM is being prepared by Stan Myers, chairman, and his committee. Boy Scout troops in Arlington Heights will sell tickets and will participate in the net proceeds. Admission is $1, plus 20 cents tax.

The purchase of tickets will not only assure a program of excellent close harmony, but will also help the local scouts to finance their activities.

The men who have organized the Arlington Heights chapter hope that the citizens of Arlington Heights will welcome the addition of this singing group into civic activities. They have previously sung for the Holy Name Society, St. James Catholic church; Couples club, St. Peter Lutheran church; St. John's Ev. and Ref. church; Chamber of Commerce annual banquet; and the American Legion dance at the Mt. Prospect Country club.

Character letters get probation for former Palatine mail carrier

Two former postal carriers in the north suburbs were given probation on mail theft charges last week in Federal court.

Bernhard A. Dreyer, 24, of 2555 N. Brockway, Palatine, the "tired postman," was given one year probation Thursday by Judge Michael L. Igoe.

"This is the letter carrier who became tired," said the judge. "The probation officer's report shows he is a high school graduate and honorably discharged from the army. A lot of people out there testify as to his good character. The report says probation is indicated. Now Mr. Dreyer will have to drag his tired feet every month down to the U. S. courthouse as well as continuing as a caddy at the Arlington Country club."

James T. Arndt, 29, also a mail carrier, of 647 Asbury ave., Evanston, Friday was granted probation of 18 months on the condition he pay $10 a month on a fine of $150 also imposed.

He pleaded guilty to stealing 600 letters and $150 in cash.

Irene Schoenbeck and Virgil Stanley Jr. wed

Montgomery Studio

In a candlelight ceremony held April 14, Miss Irene Esther Schoenbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schoenbeck of Richmond, Ill., formerly of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Virgil Loyd Stanley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stanley of Hebron, Ill.

The couple exchanged vows at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Harvard. Rev. Paul Huxhold officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony before an altar banked with gladioli, snapdragons, carnations and ferns.

More than 400 guests attended the reception which was held following the wedding at Hunter Country club in Richmond.

Six attendants preceded the bride down the aisle. All wore white gowns of double net over taffeta with lace boleros. The maid of honor and the junior bridesmaids carried bouquets of pale pink carnations while the bridesmaids' flowers were rose-pink carnations.

Miss Patricia Stanley of Hebron, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Gloria Haemker of Arlington Heights, Marge Stoxen of Salem, Wis., and Mary Nichols of Hebron. Shirley Haemker of Palatine and Judy Schleicher of Rockford were junior bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of white imported chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, peter pan collar, and long train. Her fingertip veil was of imported silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with an orchid in the center.

Best man for the groom was Robert Schoenbeck of Richmond, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Toni Johnson of Rockford, John Brennan of Hebron and Chris Johnson of Rockford. Thomas Mitchell of Arlington Heights was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schoenbeck wore a royal blue lace gown with navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with lilac accessories and an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in New York and Canada, and upon their return will make their home in Hebron.

Three showers were given for the bride previous to the wedding. A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Marge Haemker of Palatine March 14. The afternoon of March 30 another miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Virgil Stanley Sr. of Hebron ,and that evening Miss Mary Nichols and Mrs. Leo Bigelow of Hebron gave a pantry shower at Miss Nichols' home.

St. John's Evening Guild spring card party May 17

The spring card party sponsored by the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, will be held at the Arlington Heights field house May 17.

Mrs. R. E. Gerrard, chairman of the Ways and Means committee for the Guild, has appointed members of her committee to assist her as follows: Mrs. Forrest E. Blose, tables and chairs; Mrs. Curtiss A. Dahl, cards and favors; Mrs. Ralph Mabbs, decorating; Mrs. William F. Frost and Mrs. Robert E. Rohner, prizes.

Mrs. Ralph Van Middlesworth, chairman of the Guild's social committee, will be responsible for the refreshments. Candy on each table, home-baked cake and coffee will be included in the donation of 85 cents per person.

There will be tables for both bridge and canasta. Those who desire further information or who want to make reservations should call Mrs. Gerrard at 1270-J. The public is invited to attend. (AM

Gene Early Jr. takes Pauline Clem as bride

Community Camera

Before an altar banked with white gladioli and snapdragons, Miss Frances Pauline Clem, daughter of Mrs. Frances D. Clem, 646 N. Douglas ave., Arlington Heights, became the bride of Gene Early Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Early of Chicago.

Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated at the 9:30 nuptial mass at St. James church April 14.

Sister Mary Amabella accompanied Mrs. Wilfred Donlea, who sang "Mother Beloved" and "Panis Angelicus." Bill Degnan sang "Ave Maria."

The bride wore an original gown of skinner ivory satin in regency style with a marquisette yoke, shoulder and hip drape, double bustle and train. A pleated net headpiece decorated with pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion net in place. Miss Clem carried a white orchid on her prayer book and wore a gold lavalier studded with pearls, a family heirloom which belonged to her late paternal grandmother.

She was given in marriage by her brother, Arthur G. Clem.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Hull, was matron of honor. She wore a pink satin gown with a boat neckline, cap sleeves, hip drape and bow bustle. Mrs. Hull also wore elbow length pink satin gloves and carried a white gladioli cascade bouquet.

John Early, brother of the groom, was best man. Thomas Duggan, the bride's uncle, and Ralph Hull Jr., the bride's brother-in-law, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a Harding blue lace dress over taffeta, a pink picture hat, pink pearls and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a breakfast for 50 guests was held at the bride's home. A reception was held for about 350 at the LaSalle hotel in Chicago in the afternoon.

After a four-weeks' honeymoon on the west coast, the couple will live in Chicago.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duggan, uncle and aunt of the bride, who flew in from St. John, New Brunswick, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Severson, uncle and aunt of the groom, who drove from Buffalo, N. Y., with their 5 children to attend the ceremony.

HVWP tea to aid hospitalized vets

A tea for the benefit of hospitalized veterans will be held Friday afternoon at 410 S. Michigan ave., Chicago, at 2 o'clock. It is given under the sponsorship of the National committee for Hospitalized Veterans Writer's project.

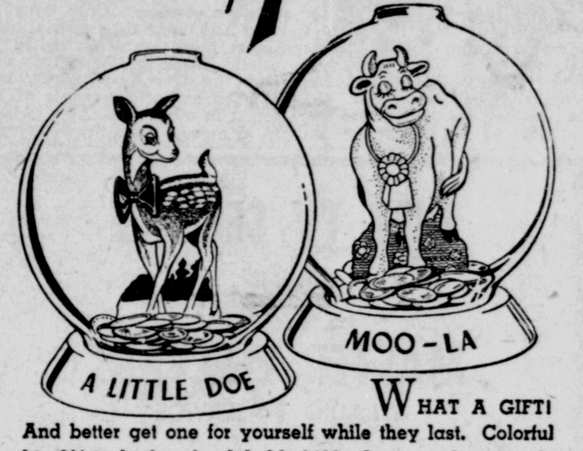

Mrs. Clarence Witthans of Arlington Heights is one of the workers with the National committee, and she will be present at the tea, which will feature Jeremy Ingals, Shelley poetry award winner, as guest speaker. Mrs. Hazel Skinner, formerly of Evanston and Tucson, Ariz., who is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. Richard Bowen in Palatine, will also be present. Mrs. Skinner spent the past winter working with hospitalized veterans in Tucson.

Storing Honey

Mr. and Mrs. John Gathman celebrate 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Gathman, 367 Duane ave., Glen Ellyn, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary April 29 at an open house at their home from 3 to 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gathman were married April 28, 1901, in Bloomingdale Evangelical church and lived in Chicago until 1904. They have lived in this area since 1904, and Glen Ellyn has been their home since 1924.

Mrs. Gathman, who is 68, was originally from Bloomingdale, and Mr. Gathman, 73, was from Schaumburg. Mrs. Gathman is a member of the missionary society of the Glen Ellyn Bible church. Mr. Gathman has been a farmer and stock hauler and is now on the park board in Glen Ellyn.

The Gathmans had eight children, two of whom died. A son, Stuart, was killed in World War II. The six children, who with their families will attend the open house Sunday, are Arthur of Frenchberg, Ky.; Dorothy, Lombard; Eleanor, St. John, Mich.; Wesley, Glen Ellyn; Eloise, Grant, Mich.; and Richard, Glen Ellyn. Thirteen grandchildren will also be present.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

"A fine party" was the verdict of those who attended last Saturday's American Legion dance at the Mt. Prospect Country club. A good band with a vocalist and a congenial crowd made for a festive occasion.

As an added attraction the Arlington Heights Barbershop chorus, now members of the national SPEBSQSA, sang. Four of their members, calling themselves the "Four Hoarsemen," gave the first local performance in many years of "Old Soldiers Never Die." J. D. Bryson is the director of this chorus of men who sing for the fun of it.

Cookies for sale

Girl Scout stickers are blossoming in more windows all the time as members of the various local troops complete their rounds in the village taking orders for cookies. These cookies — good ones, too, — are sold at 40 cents a box.

The girls themselves, both Brownies and Scouts, do all the canvassing themselves. The stickers they hand out when an order is placed is to relieve the homemaker of having a multitude of requests to purchase and to let every one know that this family is helping the Scouts, too.

Roland Franzen, finance chairman and his assistant, Mrs. Marvin Rodewald, are hoping that the sale of cookies during this one week will be sufficiently great that there will be no need for a regular finance drive in the fall.

Music, maestro

Many more than just proud parents turned out Friday night to listen to the members of Harold Brunt's grade school band in concert. The 100 band members ably demonstrated what they had learned and put their instruction into practice.

Two of Miss Florence Zwane's glee club members sang as well. Beverly Olsen sang Brahm's "Lullaby" and Bill Reis, the amusing song from "H. M. S. Pinafore" that tells the story of the "Ruler of the Queen's Navy."

Soloists from the band included Maureen Shumaker, Fred Smith, George Carlson, Judy Clabaugh, Ann Carlson, Mary Jane Harth, Joyce Harth, Douglas Brown, Alan Hutchinson, Ashley Haase, Judy Sherrill and Emily Sherrill.

Dogs, beware

The stray dog problem in Arlington Heights which has reached a peak in recent months is well on the way to solution. The answer: dog catchers! The new village employees are also special police and may pick up any dog they see running loose. To regain a pet, the owner will have to pay a fine at the village hall.

Dog catchers will pay periodic — and unannounced — visits to Arlington Heights, and they are the same men who also do the job for several neighboring towns.

First aid

Many local people are planning to learn a new skill, first aid. Several classes in Red Cross techniques are now being organized. The first two, under the leadership of Mrs. David Zimmerman and Robert Kemman, began Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, respectively.

Two more groups will begin next Wednesday and on May 15. Instructors are Gerald Knitter and Rubin Conrad. Mrs. Edward Carlisle is chairman of Red Cross instruction, and will be glad to accept registrations for free instructions. Her telephone number is 231.

Heights OES to hold Friends' Night Tonight

OES of Arlington Heights will hold its regular meeting and Friends' Night tonight, Thursday, at Presbyterian parish hall, 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Esther Olson and Henry Haas, worthy matron and patron of Des Plaines chapter, will be in the East. Mrs. Dorothy Voss, junior past matron of Arlington Heights chapter, will be guest of honor.

A penny social will be held following the meeting.

Woman's club luncheon at Edgewater Thursday

The blossoms and pastel hues of spring will pervade the lovely Marine dining room of the Edgewater Beach hotel where members of the Arlington Hts. Woman's club will lunch next Thursday afternoon, May 3, at 1 o'clock.

A special planning committee headed by Mrs. Joseph Miller has been working throughout the year to make this luncheon a distinctive event of the club's social calendar.

Pre-luncheon music will be played to the assembling members and guests by the hotel organist.

At the speaker's table will be Mrs. Milton C. Haase, president of the local organization, who will extend greetings to the 400 women in attendance. Also seated at this table will be Mrs. Norman W. Crandall, dean of chairmen and first vice-president, who will present a brief summation of the club's activities this past year.

Honored guests will be Mrs. George Gschwindt, retiring president of the seventh district of Federated clubs; Mrs. E. J. Heckel, newly elected president of the District; Mrs. A. H. Franzen, recently elected secretary of the District, and Mrs. Earl L. Heverly, new Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club president.

Jane and Carl Rupp will present "Musical Contrasts," a program consisting of classical piano repertoire, paraphrases on famous melodies, and original novelty and comedy presentations.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. John Lindstrom have prepared the decorations and programs for the occasion. Tickets are being handled by Mrs. Frank Menzel, 1409-R, Mrs. William Trude, 1941-J, Mrs. R. A. Bertsch, 2374, Mrs. John Shanklin, 1384-J, and Mrs. William Bierdeman, 1813-W.

The final date for reservations is April 27.

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

By MARILYN McLENNAN

Spring is here with lots of sunny summer days ahead. Let's clean up the barbecue pit and think a bit about out-door entertaining.

Mrs. Roy Tauber of 308 N. Plum Grove, Palatine, shares her well-known recipe for barbecued ribs, an all-time favorite with barbecue fans.

"To prepare your bed of coals, start your fire at least an hour or two ahead of time," advised Mrs. Tauber. "We use the charcoal brickettes and add hickory flakes which makes an ideal barbecue fire," she added.

During the cooking process brush the ribs with a mixture of ½ cup salad oil, 1 tablespoon of dry mustard and 1 tablespoon paprika. Mrs. Tauber buys the back ribs and allows at least ½ a strip per person.

A precaution she advised — do not cook the ribs before the fire is ready. "It is ready when you almost think there is no hope for it to continue," laughed this homemaker. Be sure the distance from the meat to the coals will not allow it to cook too rapidly. It should take from 20 minutes to one-half hour to cook them. When ribs are done, brush sauce on and then dash them over a flame for a minute or so.

Barbecued Ribs

Sauce:
½ cup vinegar.
1 clove garlic.
¼ cup butter.
½ teaspoon paprika.
½ teaspoon black pepper.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons honey.
¼ cup Worchestershire sauce.
1 cup catsup.

Mix ingredients and simmer for one-half hour.

Father of Comedy

Aristophanes (about B. C. 450 380), the Athenian dramatist, is considered the father of comedy.

Unmarrieds to be known in future as LOK club

The Unmarrieds club of Arlington Heights had another successful event Saturday night, when nearly 30 members turned out for the Latin American dancing party at the Presbyterian church.

During a short business meeting that night members decided to officially name the unmarrieds the LOK club. The meaning of the initials will not be published but will be given to anyone interested. It was also decided to charge a $1 a year membership, which will be payable beginning May 9. This is a non profit organization and all funds collected will be used to finance parties and pay for secretarial expenses.

Plans are now being made for a Hard Time party to be held May 9, at the Presbyterian church. Highlight of the event will be square dancing, with Bob Bishop doing the calling. This party is open to all single men and women of port high school age.

The LOK club has been formed to further the social activities of the unmarried set in Arlington Heights and surrounding communities. Paul Breitsprecher is the president and details of the club may be had by calling him at Arlington Heights 2014-M; or by calling the secretary, Vera Folkman, 7238-M.

Arlington Airport sergeant severely burned in auto accident

An air force soldier was seriously injured Friday in a collision near O'Hare Field.

The soldier was driving a car south on Mannheim rd. A trailer truck driven by 29-year-old Herbert Lucas of 312½ N. Menard ave. was going west on Higgins rd. Lucas swerved to avoid hitting the car.

The trailer then jack-knifed and overturned landing on top of the car. The trailer caught fire and the car also burned.

The soldier suffered third degree burns and several broken bones. He is now at the Swedish Covenant hospital in a critical condition.

In the accident a utility pole was broken and communications at nearby O'Hare air field were disrupted. The truck driver was treated for minor injuries at the field.

The soldier has been identified as 32-year-old Staff Sgt. Dwight Johnson. He lives with his wife Audrey and their two children in converted barracks at the Arlington Heights air port.

Village Theatre to give 'The Sleeping Beauty' for orphans April 28-29

"The Sleeping Beauty," presented at Christmas time by the Village Theatre, Inc. for the children of Arlington Heights will again be given Saturday and Sunday for boys and girls at the Uhlich Children's home in Chicago and at the Lake Bluff orphans home.

The play, under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Staahl, was written by Mrs. Robert Hawley in collaboration with Miss Joan Barry. Funds raised in the Christmas show are being used to pay expenses for the current performances.

REACH 40,000 READERS FOR $1

The revised plans for the two-room addition to Wilson school are now available for bidders, and the sealed bids will be opened May 15, at 8 p.m., at the school house.

The men of Pinegate association will meet at the home of Bill Thompson May 4 at 8 p.m. The meetings had previously been held at the school house, but members decided that the social hour following the business could best be enjoyed at the homes of members.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bradbury returned to their home on Rand rd. last week after spending four months with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barrenbrugge, in Delray Beach, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Olsen motored to Florida several weeks ago and brought the Bradburys back with them. On their return trip they stopped to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Malyon of St. Cloud, Fla., former of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Richard Daley of Pinegate recently made a trip to Kansas City, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Hoover, who had been visiting the Daleys. On her return trip she brought Mr. Daley's father back to Pinegate for a visit.

Happy birthday to Kenneth Durben, who was 10 years old April 23.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huebner, who celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary April 25.

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Wilson school PTA will be held tonight, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Andrew Wallor.

Public Notice

The School Board of School District No. 24 (Wilson School) hereby advises that plans and specifications for the construction of additions and alterations to the above named school will be available for bidders after April 25, 1951.

Separate bids are requested on:
General Work
Heating Work
Plumbing Work
Electrical Work

Sealed bids will be opened May 15, 1951, 8 p.m. D.S.T. at the present school located at Palatine and State Roads.

A deposit of $5.00 is required for each set of plans and specifications.

Plans and specifications as prepared by James J. Dvorak and R. J. Drayton will be available at the office of Robert Drayton, architect, 34 N. Brockway, Palatine.

Charles Anderson wins Younker scholarship to Grinnell college

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, has received word from President Samuel N. Stevens and the scholarship committee of Grinnell college that Chas. Anderson has been awarded a Younker scholarship, which will entitle him to free tuition for one year (amounting to $480) with the promise of continued free tuition for the remaining three years with the maintainance of his scholastic average.

Anderson, a senior at Arlington Heights township high school, achieved this distinction in competition with several hundred other students from all over the U. S. He will graduate this June in the upper tenth of his class scholastically. During his senior year, he has served as editor-in-chief of the Heights, the school yearbook, and as president of the Student Senate.

In addition to his journalistic activity and senate leadership, he has been active in dramatics and speech work and is a member of the National Thespian Society. He is also a member of Quill and Scroll, national honorary journalistic organization, and of National Honor Society, membership for which is based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson of 9 So. William st., Mt. Prospect.

Charles was the winner of the first prize of a $25 defense bond in the essay contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars recently on the subject of "Freedom's Open Door." As a result of winning the local contest, the essay is now in Springfield, Ill. where it is being judged in the state contest.

Wins week's scholarship to Egyptian music camp

Alice Rindlisbacher, sophomore at Arlington Heights township high school, has been awarded a week's scholarship to the Egyptian Music Camp at DuQuoin, as the result of her winning essay on "Why I'd Like to Attend Music Camp" sponsored by the Junior Woman's club of Arlington Heights.

Previously, Alice had won a week's schoralship by virtue of her audition. She will attend the camp from June 11 to June 23.

Alice has studied the violin for five years and won first honor rating for her violin solo in the district music contest held recently in Bensenville. On April 27, she will compete for honors in the state music contest to be held in Peoria. Alice is a member of the String Ensemble at the high school.

To attend Home Ec luncheon at Mandel's

Miss Mary S. Handlin of the Homemaking department of Arlington Heights Township high school will attend the luncheon meeting of the Home Economics teachers of the Lake Shore Division to be held at Mandel's Tea Room April 28.

Miss Handlin has recently attended a workshop session on fitting problems for homemaking and clothing teachers conducted by Miss Ritta Whitesell of the University of Illinois.

August Oldenburg

Funeral services were held April 10 for August Oldenburg, late of 4 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect, at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated. Interment St. Paul's cemetery.

Mr. Oldenburg was born December 10, 1864, in Mecklenburg, Germany. He lived in Elk Grove before moving to Mt. Prospect in 1922. He was a retired employee of Benjamin Electric Co. Mr. Oldenburg died April 7 at St. Joseph's hospital.

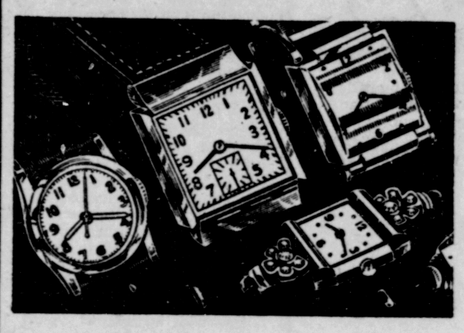

Survivors include his wife, Emma; his children, Emma Busse, Lillie Kirchhoff, Martha Landmeier, Fred, Alma Behrens and Gilbert; 17 grandchildren, 21 great grandchildren and one sister, Emma Kueker.

26 SCHOOLS COMPETE SATURDAY IN 19TH PALATINE RELAYS

Rob Roy golf league opens next Tuesday

The 1951 teams in the Rob Roy Golf League are raring to go Tuesday evening, May 1 at 5:30 p.m. Jack Little, president, Lou Neuendorf, secretary, and Carl Hammerl, treasurer, have worked long hours to set up the 14 team schedule.

A meeting for all league members was held at Rob Roy Tuesday, April 17, and the final touches were put on the new rules, handicaps and team arrangements. There will be a few new faces this year, among them being Steve Rowader, who will replace his son, Jim, who is now on Uncle Sam's team.

It promises to be a mighty hot race this year with L'Nor Cleaners defending their crown.

TEAM LINE-UPS for 1951:

Team 1, Park Ridge Golf range and miniature golf: D. Hartman, H. Adler, S. Rowader, R. Borough.

Team 2, Koske Excavators: R. Westfall, T. Koske, V. Bowman, R. Harth.

Team 3, Dunteman Dairy: L. Arnold, L. Dunteman, W. Fill, P. Malchow.

Team 4, Michael's IGA: C. Kleinofen, A. Oswiller, H. Michael, H. Rapp.

Team 5: Eddie's Lounge (Milwaukee ave.): S. Fill, A. Fahrner, R. Schultz, W. Schroeder.

Team 6, Kirchhoff Insurance: M. McDonald, R. Meyers, D. McPherson, E. Fill.

Team 7, Rhodes Appliances: O. Andersen, H. Franks, R. Kalteaux, F. Bresselford.

TEAM 8, The Lunch Bar: J. Little, A. Schultz, A. Wilnes, L. Neuendorf.

Team 9, Weber Addressing: C. Hammerl, R. Beard, J. Carnell, J. Bodor.

Team 10, V & G Printers: H. Hall, R. Anderson, S. Luczak, J. Rogers.

Team 11, Smith & Dawson: H. Klapp, H. France, R. Peterson, E. Noedinger.

Team 12, L'Nor Cleaners: T. Rowader, J. Jackson, V. Rolfs, A. Thorsen.

Team 13, Prospect Heights Pharmacy: L. Green, A. Serbins, H. Bengel, G. Carmichael.

Team 14, Prospect Heights Service Station: H. Laufman, J. Bozik, A. Lohr, R. Haase.

There will be special prizes for alternates and they are urged to come out every night and compete. Any one interested in participating in the Rob Roy league, contact Lou Neuendorf, secretary, either Tuesday evening or drop in at the Snack Bar in Prospect Heights.

Kehe's Market edges L-Nor Cleaners by 6 pins on Arlington Lanes

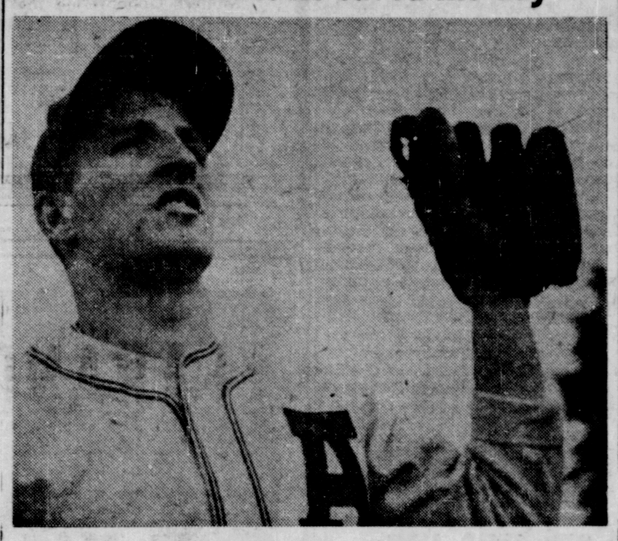

Kehe's Market bowlers edged L-Nor Cleaners keglers Saturday on the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes, 2620-2614. The cleaners took an 11 point lead, succumbed by 14, then lost again by three pins.

High man for the winners was George Kusch with 559 while Lou Sadecky's 572 was tops for L-Nors. Complete scores:

Kehe's Market: G. Kusch 559, M. Kehe 536, F. Kehe 502, I. Kehe 499, G. Thompson 524, 892, 887, 841, 2620.

L-Nor Cleaners: L. Sadecky 572, B. Witt 536, T. Kouros 498, E. Lindgren 537, C. Grom 471, 903, 873, 838, 2614.

Mitt Bob Schulze! He saved the day

Bob Schulze's ever-ready mitt in the outfield was all-important Monday afternoon as it changed a possible home run into the final out and victory number 2 in West Suburban league play for Arlington Heights. Coach Grace's nine drubbed out a 5-3 win over Riverside-Brookfield. Community Camera

Mac Says-

When the Northwest Conference baseball season opens next Tuesday Barrington and Ela, co-champs in 1950, will again be among the leading favorites for the title. Last year each lost one game, Barrington losing to Ela and Ela in turn being beaten by Antioch. Barrington probably has the edge on the field due to the strong right arm of Dan Osinski who will be back to hurl the team to the top of the league again. Osinski had two no hit games to his credit last season and led the Bronchos to the Northwest Six summer high school league championship as well as the Northwest Conference title.

Coach Les Harman has seven other lettermen available to make Barrington a contender including outfielders Dave Hansen, Bob Truax, and Bob Beckhart; infielders Bob Whitmer, Ron Andrae, and Bill Smith; and the little peppery catcher Dick Iverson. Chuck Hohfelder, a sophomore, has already established himself as a stand out shortstop. The Bronchos are scheduled today with Niles and are hosts to Freeport Saturday before the league opener at home with Northbrook Tuesday, May 1.

Ela lost valued players but will still be contender in Northwest

Ela High of Lake Zurich lost three outstanding performers by graduation in pitcher Eddie Prouty, shortstop Jerry Wendt, and second baseman Louis Geary. Bob Helzer, a transfer from Nebraska, has shown good enough pitching form for Ela to win four pre-season games and the Bears look like a strong contender again. Lettermen Coach Mel Eide is depending on are Mike Rizzo, catcher; Charles Wesner, second base; Jerry Centoni, first base and pitcher; and Robert Wendt, August Meyer, and Terry Turner, outfielders. Jim Obenauf, a sophomore pitcher, is slated for considerable action on the varsity team. Ela opens the league season Tuesday against Antioch.

Vikings can win title if pitching comes through

Northbrook will share the favorite's role in the coming baseball campaign with Ela and Barrington. Coach Bill Lutz has a veteran team which will need to stop Barrington in the opener or have an uphill fight in the short seven game conference season.

Pirates expect to rise a few notches this season

Palatine finished last with one victory a year ago but all indications point to an improved record for 1951. Coach Bailey has better pitching with Brumm looking the best. He has a veteran infield and outfield. Last year the Pirates could not hit and had pitchers who issued too many passes. Palatine will be improved but may still finish in the second division in the third year the sport has been played at the school.

Bisons may be better than rated

Bensenville has an inexperienced team on paper with only three veterans returning but Coach Tom Meneguin will have a better team than it appears. All his boys will have the benefits of summer American Legion ball. This has always made the Bisons a strong contender.

Pick Bisons and Pirates for second division

To us it looks like the final league standings might be like this: 1. Barrington; 2. Northbrook; 3. Ela; 4. Antioch; 5. Grant; 6. Palatine; 7. Bensenville; 8. Wauconda. We expect the opening day results to find Barrington, Ela, Grant, and Palatine winners over Northbrook, Antioch, Bensenville, and Wauconda.

We are strong for summer high school baseball

Next Tuesday coaches of the schools interested in entering teams in the Northwest Summer League will meet at Barrington to complete the details of the league organization. Marengo, Woodstock, Hebron, Barrington, Elgin, and Palatine were entered last year. Antioch and Grayslake will definitely be added with Harvard and Dundee other possibilities.

Baseball is definitely a warm weather summer sport. We hope the time will come in this area as it has in many down state conferences where track will be the spring sport and baseball will be played in the summer. We tried for several years to promote this idea in the Northwest Conference without too much success.

However, next year three of the teams will be playing in the summer league and perhaps that is a start in the right direction.

Anyone interested in playing golf, and who would like to enjoy the competitive spirit of the league should come to the Mt. Prospect Country club May 4. The first season he will play as an alternate, but will be placed on a team as soon as possible.

Heights golfers drub Bisons

by RON PRELLBERG

As expected the Arlington varsity duffers ran over a Bensenville squad 16-4 in their opening match of the 1951 season on the Bisons' home course, Mohawk Country club, last Thursday. Brisk low 40 degree temperatures prevented the top men on each squad from doing the nine holes played in regulation figures. Besides the low temperatures, the quick arrival of darkness interfered soon enough to allow only a nine-hole match, resulting in the awarding of only 2 points to each victor instead of the regular 3 for 18 holes.

The Cardinals came only two matches from making it a shutout, as 8 of the 10 Arlingtonites emerged victorious. Jack Coleman, a newcomer on the Card list of linksmen, stroked out a sparkling 3 over par 38 to lead his mates, while Tom Rowader followed with a 42 and Joe Dister, a sophomore, holed his last putt to card a 43. A successful season is predicted for Coleman, Dister, and other Cardinal divot diggers such as Tom Rowader, number one man, Phil Knoeppel, Marv Schaeffer, Berwyn Rascher, Dick Tang, Dick Hauff, and Wally Berschet.

Niles was next on the local's slate, Wednesday, followed by Palatine, Thursday, and Maine, Monday, April 30, which will be the duffers' first match in West Suburban play.

The West Suburban Conference meet will be held at Rolling Green Country club, a definite advantage for AHTHS, while the Cards are still undecided as to where they will play in the district.

Palatine golfers whip Antioch

Palatine High golfers won shut out victories with both first and second teams at Antioch Saturday playing at the Chain-O-Lakes course against Antioch's green team. It is the first year of golf for Antioch and all the Palatine boys easily defeated their opponents. Results of both matches were 15-0 for the Pirates.

Palatine scores for 18 holes were as follows: Tom Smith 84, Charles Briggs 88, Charles James 88, Richard Meyer 89, Harold Klapp 90, Dick Roof 95, Ray Metzler 98, Peter Abramson 108, Gerry McElroy 111, and Richard Florey 115. A high wind and temperatures in the thirties prevented better scores.

Stutz and Hale get track ready for relays

Community Camera

Getting the track ready for the Palatine Relays Saturday are J. E. Stutzman, on the tractor, and Hale Hildebrandt. These two have been working long hours packing the track and rolling the field in an effort to get Ost field in tip top shape for the big meet.

Palatine track is known to be the best in this area. Drain tile installed when the track was originally laid out enables the track to dry in a minimum of time after spring rains. However, on the basis of past years, the weather should be dry Saturday.

Bensenville's limited track team, coached by John Trapp, saw plenty of action last week as the varsity took on Leyden and Barrington, while the frosh-sophs met Leyden. The locals lost all three meets, taking 27, 28 and 31 points.

Wednesday afternoon the Bisons played host to Leyden, the varsity losing, 85-28, and the youngsters, 77-27. Egly copped the 220 for Coach Trapp in 25 seconds, while Currie took first in the pole vault, hitting 9'. Egly tied Droper of Leyden in the high jump for Bensenville's only other first. He also took third in the low hurdles and 100 yard dash for 12 scores, while Currie tallied 9.

For frosh-sophs Bensenville took three firsts in field events. Ewerling won the shot with a toss of 41'2", and Cuatrecasas pole vaulted 8'6" and threw the discus 72'9".

AGAINST Barrington Thursday, again on their home track, the Bisons fared about the same. Currie took the low hurdles in :15.7, Rasmussen tossed the shot 40'2½", Currie tied Roake of Barrington in the pole vault at 9'6", and also won the discus with a heave of 112'6".

The Broncs copped grand slams in the 880, 440 and mile. Final tally was 96-31 with the Lake county school the winner.

Heights could win again; favor Mooseheart in 'B', Palatine 3rd

BY G. A. McELROY

Twenty-six schools and 500 athletes will try to crack the records and carry off the medals in the 19th Palatine Relays to be run on Ost Field at Palatine township high school Saturday. Field events both preliminaries and finals are scheduled for the morning session starting at 9.30. At 1:00 p. m. the track events are to start with a program of class "A" and class "B" events which will take more than three hours to complete.

Schools under 450 enrollment are in "B" class and those larger are in the "A" division. Medals are being given to five places in each event in each class and championship trophies to the highest scoring schools in each division.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS is defending champion and while not as strong as a year ago might still repeat, for competition and points are due to be spread greater than last year. DeKalb, Libertyville, and Niles are considered to be among the leading class "A" teams.

Mooseheart, winner the past two years, is a top heavy favorite to annex their third first place in a row in class "B". Coach Dale Smith's boys will be good in every event and it takes balance with ability to place in all the relays to pile up the necessary points for a championship.

Palatine, who for a good many years has been among the leaders, is due to finish among the top three or four again this season. Palatine won the meet three times, all in succession in 1941-42-43. Wauconda, Lake Forest, and Barrington may not be very far apart in points along with Palatine. Mooseheart might win by as much as a 20 point margin this year.

NEW EVENTS in the meet this year include a class "B" 100 yard dash, and a new distance in the low hurdle shuttle relay which has been reduced from 432 yards to 400 yards with the change in distance between hurdles. The only threat to any of the existing records appears to be the shot where Bolen of DeKalb has come within one inch of the 50 foot mark in a dual meet.

J. E. Stutzman, Palatine high athletic director, is manager of the meet and clerk of the starts assisted by Hale Hildebrandt. G. A. McElroy is finish clerk with Sam England of Leyden, Wally Grace of Arlington Heights, Frank Gannon of Wright and Street Company, Robert Pratt of Barrington, Homer Sweasy of the sporting goods firm of Hayden and Sweasy of Aurora, Gene Bell of Arlington Heights, and Mike Rose of North Chicago as finish judges. Wally Lemm, track coach of Lake Forest College, will be the official starter and referee of the meet. Howard Stinson is custodian of awards and Bob Paddock official scorer.

Ela beats Palatine on diamond, 11-8

Palatine lost their second preconference season baseball game Monday at Lake Zurich when Ela beat the Pirates 11-8. Palatine outhit the Bears 12 to 7 but nine bases on balls issued to Ela batters made up for the difference in hitting.

An error, two bases on balls, and three of their seven hits came in the fifth inning to account for six Ela runs. Rizzo and Wesner each got two hits for Ela. Kolze had three hits and Schrage and Herbertz each got two for Palatine.

Wauconda second to Palatine in quadrangular

Palatine won an unusual type of track meet last Thursday in a quadrangular affair involving Antioch, Grant, and Wauconda. All the events of the Palatine Relays of next Saturday were run. Scoring the meet the same as the Palatine Relays, Palatine had 93, Wauconda 80½, and Grant and Antioch each scored 45 3/4. Palatine won all the relay events except the 880 relay which Wauconda captured. Wauconda was second in all the other relays they entered showing a remarkable improvement in track over previous years.

Wauconda had the best individual point getters and marks. Bob Nolan won the shot and discus and his throw of 126 feet 5 inches in the discus was one of the better marks. Hironimus of Wauconda won the mile in the fast time of 4:52. Grant's only first was by Kramer in the broad jump.

Palatine golfers play their best to date but lose to New Trier, 11-4

Palatine High golfers played their best of the season to date at Indian Hill course in Winnetka Monday night but lost to New Trier 11-4. Playing on one of the finest courses in the Chicago area, Palatine's five boys carded 79, 83, 84, 84 and 88 but New Trier had the edge with 77, 77, 80, 83 and 89.

Kastor NT 77 beat Briggs P 84 by 3-0, Mazzetto NT beat Smith P 79 by 2½ to ½, Krueger NT 83 beat Klapp P 84 by 2½ to ½, Meyer P 83 beat Dearborn NT 89 by 3-0, and Wylie NT 80 beat James P 88 by 3-0.

Thursday, April 26 Palatine and Arlington Heights clash at Old Orchard at 2:30. Next Monday, April 30 the Pirates play at LaGrange.

Heights tennis team defeats Belvidere

Arlington Heights high school tennis team, coached by Rod McLennan, netted a victory in their first match of the season Saturday in an abbreviated session at Belvidere. Rain prevented play after the first four singles were history, but pre-game agreement indicated a 4-0 score would be considered complete.

The Heights aggregation copped all four matches. Chuck Anderson took his 6-1 and 7-5; Charlie Knapp won 7-5, lost 3-6, came back 6-3; Tom Bowersox was hot in the first, 6-0, and won the second set, 8-6; Ray Birkholz copped the first two, 6-4 and 6-2.

Highland Park golfers edge Palatine, 8-7

Palatine's golf team lost an 8-7 match with Highland Park last Thursday at the Sunset Valley course. Points scored by Palatine were Briggs 3, Meyer 2½, James ½, and Klapp one. Scores were Briggs 83, Klapp 86, Meyer 86, Roof 91, James 96, Abramson 105, McElroy 112, Florey 115 and Martin 118. The Palatine second team five lost 13-2. Highland Park's best scores were 83, 87, and 88.

Palatine second to Mooseheart in track meet

Palatine's varsity track team came in second in a triangular meet at Mooseheart Saturday as the host school scored 80½ points to Palatine's 44 while Batavia got 15½. Palatine won three first places. Dick Ross won the shot and discus while Gerry Herrmann took the half mile in good time. Batavia won the high hurdles in excellent time of :16.2 but Mooseheart swept all the rest of the first places with a very well balanced team.

Excellent marks were made in all the running events and in the pole vault. Other field events were below average. Morris of Mooseheart beat Palatine's Oesterle in the mile with a 4:52.9 mark but Oesterle came back later in the half mile to take second in 2:12 right behind Gerry Herrmann.

IN THE FROSH-SOPH division of the meet Mooseheart scored 79 1/6 points to Batavia's 31½ and Palatine was last with 29 1/3. Bob Lorden won the shot, tied for first in the high jump, and took third in the discus for a total of 10 points and Palatine's only firsts. Stenzel, frosh hurdler, took two seconds and a third in the broad jump. Jesse, frosh sprinter, got a second in the 220.

Results of this meet seemed to indicate beyond a doubt that Mooseheart will be a heavy favorite to win the Palatine Relays Saturday of this week.

Lew Green wins radio-television golf

Lew Green of Prospect Heights won the 1951 NARTB Broadcasting golf tournament. This is an annual event that kicks off the convention of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. Persons from all over America enter this tournament and represent radio and television stations and companies in the industry. Lew heads Green Associates, a radio-television production company.

The tournament was played at Northwestern university golf course in near freezing weather and high winds. Green fashioned a low gross 37-41-78 to cop the coveted silver cup.

Varsity and frosh-soph runners take easy wins at Belvidere

by RON PRELLBERG

It was easy sledding for Coach Russ Attis' cindermen last Saturday as they ran over a Belvidere outfit on a soggy track, 88 1/3 to 20 2/3. Arlington copped a first in every event and went on without any trouble to claim more than their share of seconds and thirds. The Cardinal varsity win gave the local athletic record a definite boost as it was the second triumph in the four scheduled contests against the Bucs on Saturday.

Rain which came in the latter portion of the morning drenched the Belvidere track and inevitably slowed the time in the majority of events. A lack of competition also had its effects on the Red Birds' times. Bob Packard and Paul Roche, locals' number one dash man and low hurdler, respectively, were out of competition.

Kovacik and Kost claimed a pair of firsts in the 100, 220, discus, and shot-put respectively for Arlington along with teammates Lattof, VanDriel, Davajon, Klink, Tossman, Meyer, Leckband, and Deigl, all who were victorious or second in the remaining events.

A SPIRITED frosh-soph track squad added the third victory to the locals' record Saturday by swamping the Bucs' frosh-soph aggregation in a purely one sided affair, 74½-29½. Out of 12 possible first places, the Arlington tracksters captured 10 with the ease and skill of a varsity squad.

Winterbauer and Werner looked good as Card freshmen in the field events and dashes while sophomores Kent, Theis, Keithley, Hawk, Mitsch, McAuliffe, and Hinneberg competed in true style as sophomores.

ARLINGTON VARSITY 88 1-3
BELVIDERE VARSITY 20 2-3

120 HH: won by Lattof A, 2nd Walker A, 3rd Hobbs B. :16.7.

100 yard dash: won by Kovacik A, Blackburn A, Hickey B and Diche B tied for 2nd. :10.6.

Card baseballers lose to Glenbard

by RON PRELLBERG

Failure to hit with men on bases, poor base running, and ineffective pitching cost the Cards their first conference defeat Thursday afternoon when they were defeated at Glenbard by the score of 10-2. The Cards started out like a house afire by scoring 2 runs in the top of the first and still had the bases filled with nobody out. But their scoring was then over for the day. They also had the bases filled in the top of the third with only one gone, but failed to tally.

Eugene Wille started on the mound for the Cards and hurled two innings and to one man in the third. Tom Meyer then pitched through two outs in the fifth and Bob Simmons finished for the Cards.

The Glenbard team outhit the Cards 11-4. Thill and Intravartolo got the lone Card hits, each getting two. Wille walked three and struck out one, Meyer walked one and struck out one, Simmons walked one and struck out three.

Glenbard's first pitcher, who hurled six innings, walked one and struck out none. All in all it was a bad day for the Cards and a good one for Glenbard, who won their first conference game with their veteran team.

Hebron edges Palatine in eighth

Palatine opened the baseball season last Friday with a 3-2 extra inning defeat at the hands of Hebron. Herbertz' error, a wild pitch, an infield out, and a passed ball by the catcher let the winning run in the last of the eighth with two out. Palatine trailed 2-0 going into the final inning but a single by Paul Schrage pinch hitting for Day and a long home run by Dick Abrahamson tied the score.

Brumm pitched the full game for Palatine giving up five hits, striking out six and giving four bases on balls. Wilbrandt hurled for Hebron giving up four hits, fanning 14 batters and walking four. Palatine's hits were made by Schrage, Abrahamson, Herbertz, and Kolze. Oleson of Hebron got two of their five hits. Ray Sievers work in left field was the defensive bright spot in Palatine's playing.

Circus catch helps Baker in Card nine win

by RON PRELLBERG

Arlington's second conference baseball victory was brought to a thrilling climax in the bottom of the seventh on a sensational catch by Bob Schulze, Cards' left fielder, of what appeared to be a sure round tripper, which gave the Cards a thrilling 5-3 decision over Riverside-Brookfield Monday on RB's home diamond.

The seventh inning definitely looked dark for the Cards when Fox pinch hit and singled, Brenn reached first on Lynk's error, Bayag popped out to the first baseman, Fasick, and Ioas fanned.

Then Damore, one of the best hitters in the league, stepped to the plate for RB and connected with a hit that seemed to sail on without stopping but remarkably found a resting place in the outstretched glove of Bob Schulze.

BOB BAKER hurled a commendable game for his Red Bird mates as Bob went all the way, striking out 6, walking only 2, allowing 3 earned runs and permitting but 7 hits. The Cardinals had but 4 hits, but the wildness of the RB pitchers contributed definitely to the locals' victory.

Thill, Evans, Schulze, and Clark were the quartet who came through and nailed hits for AHTHS while on RB's side, Brenn, Ioas, Hale, Meinhart, and Fox had one apiece and Meyer slashed out 2 hits.

A single run was recorded in the locals' scoring column in the first inning as Baker, Nelson, and Intravartolo reached first on walks and Nelson tallied on a wild pitch. Poor base running, however, prevented the Cards again from scoring more than once.

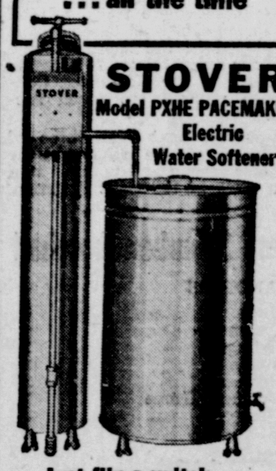

ACCURATE PITCHING by Baker kept the home team from scoring again before the Cards added 3 more runs in the top of the third. Again mainly due to the RB twirlers' wildness, a hit by Evans, and walks to Thill, Baker and Intravartolo, the Cards were able to capitalize with a 3-run inning.

Backed mainly by the blows of Ioas, Hale, and Meinhart, and a walk to Brenn, RB was able to fire back in the bottom of the third and notch their only 3 runs.

Arlington concluded the scoring in the top of the sixth when Schulze and Thill slapped out singles and an error by the RB left fielder paved the way for the final run to give the locals a 5-3 triumph.

Local Culligan officials winding up national tour

A national tour of district dealer meetings which covered the entire country will wind up this week end when 11 key executives of the Culligan Soft Water Service, Northbrook, attend a final meeting in Miami Beach, Fla.

Headed by president Harold F. Werhane, Northbrook, executives of the nation's leading water conditioning firm attended meetings in San Francisco, Fort Worth, Chicago, Omaha, Minneapolis, Columbus, New York and Toronto. They met with nearly all of the 1,100 dealers who supply completely soft water on a service basis to over two million people daily.

The two-day meetings, representing a departure from conventional conferences, gave the Culligan executives an opportunity to get into the field and study first hand the trend toward and need for water conditioning throughout the U. S. and Canada. During the meetings 54 awards were presented to dealers who completed 10 consecutive years of service and 403 awards went to five year veterans.

Culligan Soft Water Service employs more than 5,000 people in over 3,000 communities. Each year it treats more than 25 billion, 200 million gallons of water. This is nearly two billion railroad tank cars full of water.

Northbrook is headquarters for this national organization which not only softens, but chlorinates, filters, and controls rust in water. The industry requires use of 3,500 trucks.

Other Northbrook residents who were on the tour are Donald L. Porth, executive vice-president; George Klumb, technical director; Herbert F. Hamblet, executive assistant; G. Pat Tice, sales methods department; and Donald Hintz, commercial and industrial department.

R. L. Gressen, general sales manager, and A. T. Franz, advertising manager, of Wilmette were in the group.

In addition Richard Tang, sales training, Arlington Heights; William Burgess, technical service department, Evanston; and Flave Sebeete, assistant technical director, Long Lake, attended the conference.

Arlington nine ties Belvidere

by RON PRELLBERG

It was the first half of the sixth inning. The Cardinals had tied the score at 3-3 and still had the bases filled, only 1 out, and two of their best hitters, Intravartolo and Evans, due up next. It then started to rain and the umpire called time. He told Coach Wally Grace they would wait ten minutes to decide whether or not to call the game, to which Grace replied, "We should wait longer than that, for after all we drove 50 miles for this game." They did wait 20 minutes and the umpire was wanting to call the game.

But Coach Joe Lewis of Belvidere called Wally Grace to the side and admitted that the umpire had a job to do in the afternoon, that the diamond was still playable, and that we had his star sophomore pitcher on the ropes. "Why don't we call it a tie and no contest, in view of the way the umpire has acted and knowing that you had us on the ropes and yet technically knowing I could claim the game under the rules. That is the best I can do."

With such sportsmanship as that, Coach Grace had no alternative but to accept the tie, although he thinks his Cardinals would still have won the game. Five minutes after the umpire left, the rain ceased long enough to perhaps have finished the game, at least the sixth inning.

BOB SIMMONS was on the mound for the Cardinals in this game and pitched beautiful 3-hit ball. He walked only 1 and struck out 6. Belvidere's star soph pitcher, Willis, also pitched a beautiful game. He allowed 5 hits, struck out 9, but walked 7. Belvidere scored first in the bottom of the third when Willis walked, stole second, and scored on a looping single to right by Cummings, which was poorly played by Intravartolo.

The Cards tied the score in the top of the fourth on hits by Evans and Quinn and walks to Fasick and Thill. Belvidere went ahead in the bottom of the fourth, 3-1, on hits by Gibson and Conkling, the latter's being a double, and a squeeze play. Two pinch hitters aided the Cards in the top of the sixth. After Quinn had gone out, Hans Schmidt batted for Lynk and singled through the box. Jack Clark then batted for Simmons and singled to right. Thill was then hit by a pitched ball to load the bases. Walks to Nelson and Baker forced in the tying runs.

Gehrmann and Wilt, plus Bannister, to run mile Saturday

With the acceptance of a place on the starting line by Don Gehrmann, the Benjamin Franklin Mile, closing day feature of the 57th annual Pennsylvania Relay Carnival on April 27 and 28 at Franklin Field, became eligible for billing as the greatest mile race in the world this year.

Prior to word from the almost invincible Gehrmann, executive meet director Francis T. Murray received entries from Roger Bannister, Oxford's accomplished 22-year-old medical student, and National AAU indoor champion Fred Wilt, the defending titleholder.

Gehrmann and Wilt emerged from the indoor season as the two speediest and most accomplished of America milers. Bannister, who churned a rain-soaked New Zealand track in 4:09 in December, is the most famous British miler to appear in the United States since the late Jack Lovelock and Sydney Wooderson.

Until he suffered a cold in March, the 5 foot, 10 inch 130-pound Gehrmann appeared to be matchless in the mile. He extended a winning streak that started during his undergraduate career at Wisconsin to 39 straight before bowing in the New York Knights of Columbus meet to Wilt in the noteworthy time of 4:08.4.

Gehrmann was affected by illness for only one week but in that time he suffered three losses.

During the past indoor campaign, Gehrmann turned in his best official clocking by winning the Wanamaker Mile in the Millrose Games at New York's Madison Square Garden in 4:07.5. It was also the fastest mile of 1951.

Theatre Guild presents 'Blithe Spirit' this week

The fourth in the series of seasons plays by the Des Plaines Theatre Guild, that rollicking comedy of marital mix-up done in the English manner by Noel Coward, "Blithe Spirit." Because of the type comedy this is and of its well known acceptance a large attendance is expected.

An all star cast headed by Ed Sauer, Phyllis Pihl, Patricia Dolinski, Rose Mary Hanley and other equally talented performers round out the cast.

The presentation will be given Friday and Saturday nights, April 27 and 28, in the theatre guild room at Rand park. The play is under the sponsorship of the Newcomers club of Park Ridge and tickets are available from either its members or Theatre Guild members.

Paris voters end Eveland dispute

The long time battle of the Paris district school board appears to have come to an end—through an election.

The school board has been battling for several years over the hiring or firing of Ernie Eveland, high school basketball coach, who was deposed from his coaching position.

A week ago K. R. O'Hair, the board president, and Mrs. Eva Clinton were elected to fill two board memberships. Mrs. Clinton received 2368 votes, O'Hair 2325 and the unsuccessful candidate, Roscoe M. Bess 1370.

O'Hair and Mrs. Clinton along with two others of the six member board are considered pro-Eveland. Throughout the long dispute the school board was divided three-to-three.

Eveland supporters predicted the coach, who led the Paris High school team to the state prep basketball championship in 1947, would be restored to his job.

Bell & Howell family party this week-end

Following six weeks of evening rehearsals by an all-employee cast of 100, the curtain will rise on Bell & Howell company's third annual Family Night at 8 p.m., April 27 and 28 in Roosevelt high school auditorium, Chicago. Now a popular institution with the company, Family Night is attended by employees and their families, who look forward to an evening of entertainment.

3,000 tickets (free to employees) have already been taken and business at the "box office" is brisk. Capacity for the two nights is 3,500.

This year the entertainment will feature a South American theme with the opening numbers, "Rio Rita" and the favorite Mexican song, "La Paloma," sung by a Bell & Howell chorus of 42

Bird Watcher's Notes

One of the most fascinating phases of bird watching is the spring migration and the effect of weather upon the movement of the birds. There have been a good many reasons and theories propounded as to why birds migrate and what activates them to do so. One of the more recent and acceptable theories is that of phota-periodism. As the days lengthen a biological change takes place until the urge to migrate is put into action and the bird leaves for the north. This seems to be a profound reason based directly upon the increasing amount of light as the hemisphere tilts. Another factor of great importance is the weather. Cyclonic disturbances with their wind systems at times speed up and other times retard the actual northward movement of birds.

The first week of May 1950, we experienced a pronounced cyclonic disturbance that had a very definite effect on migration. April had been as usual cold and dreary, but the first of May was really springlike with warmth and sunshine. Such birds as had arrived were singing in woods and hedgerow; snipe were sunning and preening themselves in wet meadows and marsh marigolds were just beginning to bloom. At this time a low pressure area was developing in the southwest. These low pressure areas in general develop or move in from the west—sometimes from the northwest and sometimes from the southwest. The center moves across the country veering towards the Great Lakes area and then moves out the St. Lawrence River Valley. As the center moves, the winds on the eastern side are southerly, while those on the western side are northerly. So with the center developing over New Mexico, southerly winds were coming up from the gulf states and bringing rising temperatures and urging the birds along.

The path of this particular storm moved northward through Kansas and into Minnesota developing in intensity to such a degree that on the fifth of the month the barometric pressure in Chicago was 29.38, the same as at sea level, while in Minnesota it was 28.75! All this time we had strong southerly winds and clear skies, and a great many migrants which had piled up along the gulf states the latter part of April, were released and surged north. On the fourth of the month I logged 13 new species and counted 63 species for the day as I went about my business. And not only were there many species, but many representatives of each species. I have a note of seeing in one bur oak tree six male and one female rose-breasted grosbeaks and several purple finches, one a male. Such a gathering of birds so conspicuously marked with rose color is seldom seen.

By the fourth and fifth of the month the center of the storm had moved over Minnesota and shifted eastward. With the center in this position it was high time for a wind shift as the northerly winds should commence to come into play. On the fourth as I was driving to Barrington, a gentle breeze was coming in from the north although it was still quite warm. To the north was a layer of strato-cumulus clouds rather greenish above (a sign of cold weather) and a dark line of fog below. Suddenly a strong warm wind sprang up from the south and as it reached the bank of clouds the whole thing went up in flames of mist with tongues of grey flying up and dissolving like a giant prairie fire on the horizon. Shortly after this gust of warm air, a cold north wind hit and the temperature dropped about 20 degrees. This was a very pronounced squall line which sometimes precedes a cold front.

The weather reporter on the radio explained that on the sixth of the month a pronounced cold front extended from Boston westward to southern Wisconsin and thence southwestward to New Mexico. South and east of this front the winds were generally southerly, and bringing up the migrants. North and west of the front the winds were generally northerly and cold, and precipitated the birds to the earth so that they seemed to pile up in a pocket formed by the bend in the cold front. This seems to explain why we saw such quantities of birds. One day (the fourth) I had lunch by a little stream flowing into a marsh on Otis rd. near Barrington and made note from my car of a cardinal, two yellow warblers, six or more palm warblers, several swamp sparrows, a chickadee, a black and white warbler, white-crowned and white-throated sparrows, a song sparrow, a catbird and heard the usual meadowlarks, redwings and so forth. While the cold front to the north a ways probably caused this, it is still somewhat of a mystery as to why the birds come to earth in pleasant weather this side of the front unless it can be explained by "reverse migration." As most small birds migrate at night, it is possible for them to fly into a cold front, turn around, and fly back to more favorable weather.

On the fifth of the month thunderstorms were predicted and the sky was low and turbulent with winds up to 50 miles per hour. I took a walk in the Elk Grove woods on my lunch hour, and the gusts of wind passing overhead through the trees sounded like the passing of "L" trains. The effect on the birds was marked. I found a flock of three kingbirds sitting in the woods out of the wind. Usually they are out in the open and more or less scattered, but here they were seeking shelter from the wind. I also saw a redheaded woodpecker and an oriole seeking shelter from the storm. Two broad-winged hawks and several chimney swifts, although buffeted about, were beating their way south against the wind and away from the cold front. This, I believe, was a manifestation of reverse migration.

By the seventh of the month the cold front had engulfed us with strong northerly winds, and it was very cold—down to around 45 degrees. This was the aftermath of the storm as the center had passed on to the northeast. We spent that week end in the Warren Dunes State Park in Michigan and appropriately enough, on such a frigid occasion, saw a Northern loon out on Lake Michigan. This loon breeds way up north and usually spends his winters in open northern coastal waters. Even as the warm part of the storm had brought up the birds from the south so, it seemed, the cold part of the storm had brought down, as a fitting climax to so memorable event, a rare bird from the north.

Birdwatcher editor is 'Opportunity' cover man

F. J. Freeman, Paddock Publications' editor of "Journal of a Bird Watcher," and perennial Fuller brush salesman in this area, gained publicity this month when a picture of his selling a housewife appeared on the cover of "Opportunity," a magazine devoted to the selling industry.

Freeman's success in the business of door-to-door selling is discussed in a feature article in the May edition, with "a full day's hard work" the best recipe for success.

Honor seven employees for service at Sears dinner

Pictured above are Sears employees who received awards at the dinner meeting last week: Left to right: M. L. Kerrihard, Plumbing and Heating Salesman; Kenneth Bluhm, Sport Goods Manager; Edward Lange, Hardware Manager; C. S. Day, Store Manager; Wilbert Haberkamp, Auto Accessories Manager; Charles Eeles, Display Manager; Erma Decocq, (seated) Auditing Manager.

Erma Decocq, Edward Lange and Wilbert Haberkamp, employed in the Des Plaines Sears, Roebuck and Company store, were awarded Four-Star pins, one of the company's highest citations, at a dinner-meeting last week.

"These awards," said Assistant Manager E. C. Sandin, "are based solely on merit, cooperation and extention of effort."

Others who received recognition at the meeting were M. L. Kerrihard, Ten-Year Service pin; Kenneth Bluhm, Five-Year Service pin; Charles Eeles, Fifteen-Year Service pin; and Don Nelson who was awarded, in absentia, a Five-Year Service pin.

Two of the Four-Star award winners, Edward Lange and Wilbert Haberkamp, also received Ten-Year service pins.

Final plans for the annual "Sears Days" sale event which will be held at the Des Plaines Sears, Roebuck and Company store from Thursday, April 26, through Saturday, May 5, were announced at the meeting by Mr. Sandin.

"In keeping with an established tradition, Manager C. S. Day has turned over the running of this special event to his staff," Mr. Sandin announced.

"All employees have been working on the planning and staging for this nine-day event for the past several weeks. Each of us is determined to make this an outstanding sale."

One of the first sawmills built in California was the whip-saw or pit-sawmill built in Sonoma county, California, in 1835 using hand labor to cut the redwood into lumber.

United Motor Coach tells why increased fares are needed

Leonard E. Manuel, General Manager of the United Motor Coach Co. of Des Plaines, last week filed a new tariff with the Illinois Commerce Commission asking for some fare increases. In commenting on the small increase being requested he stressed the fact that in many instances these new fares were no higher than they had been in 1925. His statement to the Commission in part was:

"In order to continue a high standard of service, United Motor Coach Co. must have a fare raise at a very early date. Any delay would cause an undue hardship upon the company to maintain its service. The loss of passengers and revenue, along with constantly rising expenses since World War II, make it necessary.

"During the past three years United spent $300,000.00 on new bus equipment in an effort to further improve its service and lower its maintenance costs. The management has trimmed schedules in the evenings, on Saturdays and Sundays. Base runs have ben cut so that further economies in cutting schedules are impossible. It is constantly improving its shop maintenance program, which over a period of time, will reflect some savings.

"Wages have increased in the past ten years from $2,000.00 to $4,000.00 annually per employee. More than one half of its revenue goes to its employees. Other expenses have increased almost as much during the same period. Expenses have increased and revenue declined to the point where United lost $13,000.00 in 1950. Parts of United's fare structure were changed by two previous increases each amounting to approximately 5%. The fares now proposed to be increased were not materially affected by the previous increases.

United is requesting the following rate changes:

Fares of 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c are increased 5c with the exception of the 10c local fare, which will remain at 10c;

Fares of 30c, 35c, 40c, etc. are increased 10c;

Tokens are discontinued;

High school fares are increased 1½c per ride;

Elementary School fares are not changed.

"The management estimates that the above rates will increase its revenue by approximately 10%. A recent substantial wage increase amounting to $25,000.00 annually, will take the largest part of the anticipated increase in revenue. If the above rates are effective or authorized, the entire net revenue anticipated, after taxes at present rates, will be less than what would be a reasonable rate of return on the value of the assets of the company.

"During the '30's, United voluntarily reduced its fares. Fares requested in this filing are no higher, and some cases are actually lower, than they were twenty five years ago. For instance the fare at that time between Jefferson Park and Des Plaines was 25c. United reduced it voluntarily to 15c. It is now asking to have it increased to 20c. Twenty five years ago the Park Ridge — Des Plaines fare was 15c. It was reduced voluntarily to 10c. It is now asking for it to go back to the original 15c. To request such a small increase in fares in the face of all expenses being doubled, the management has had to practice every economy possible consistent with good safe operation. Much of its equipment is of the larger capacity. Up to now it has been possible to operate the fleet at a cost of about 30c per bus mile. This indicates, to a degree, the efficiency with which United Motor Coach Co. operates."

Roberta King to be commissioned for religious education work

Miss Roberta King, leader of the choirs and of the Junior Tuxis group of the Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will be commissioned for religious education work next Sunday by the Chicago Presbytery. The ceremony will take place in the Irving Park Presbyterian church at 4 p. m.

Miss King is about to finish her 2-year post-graduate work at McCormick Seminary and will graduate in May. After summer vacation she will return to Arlington Heights to commence a full-time career as Director of Religious Education and resume charge of the senior and junior choirs.

As student assistant for the past eight months, Miss King has earned the love and respect of the junior high youth and has made noticeable progress with the choirs. Proof of this popularity is that many of her local friends will drive to Chicago Sunday to witness the commissioning. Miss Dawn Niemeyer, president of the senior choir, is organizing the transportation.

Announce winners of loving cups in Vaudeville Follies

The Class of '52, the Girls' Club, and the Jazz Band were voted the winners of the Vaudeville Follies of '51, talent show presented by the Student Senate of Arlington Heights township high school April 20.

Winners were chosen by the vote of the audience who were given ballots with programs and instructions to vote for favorite class number, favorite club presentation, and favorite free-lance number. The names of the winners will be inscribed on the gold loving cup and placed in the trophy case.

THE WINNING number of the junior class was "The Good Old Summertime," a song and dance routine featuring pretty girls with parasols and dapper strawhatted young men. The students participating were Joan Groth, Myrna Tawney, Carol Kirkaby, Diane Botterman, Judy Gilman, Maryann MacDonald, Jean Brems, Lois Brems, Sue Dress, Pa Shanley, Joan Winterbauer, and Barbara Arnold.

The Girls' Club presented "Hawaiian War Chant" featuring the dancing of Carol Orth. The chorus line was composed of Dolores Krause, Judy Gassen, Patti Ryden, Carol Wille, Donna Anderson, Margie Payne, Junia Grimm, Peggy Sieberg, Carol Cleven, and Barbara Roberts.

THE WINNING jazz band was composed of Art Koester, trumpet, Allan Johnson, clarinet and saxophone, Jim Lee, pianist, and Herb Slottag, drummer. Their presentations included "China Town," "At The Jazz Band Ball" and "On The Sunny Side Of The Street."

The show was directed by Blyth Morrow with Joan Groth as assistant. Tom Rowader served as master of ceremonies. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Chairman Barbara Arnold, Dan Walton, Mary Jane Otterbach, Lenaye Gabel, John Leark, and Elaine Skadberg.

Elaine Kehe runner-up for Lions queen

A joint meeting of all Lions club presidents and secretaries of the district cabinet of District 1F was held at Behm's restaurant in Wheeling April 18, with District Governor Sherman H. Canty, Mt. Prospect, presiding.

Miss Gwen Bieger of Lake Bluff representing the Highland Park Lions club was chosen to represent the district at the queens' contest at the state convention at the Congress hotel in Chicago April 28, 29 and 30.

Miss Elaine Kehe, representing the Arlington Heights Lions club, was runner-up in the close contest for queen of District 1F. Lion Charles E. Twadell Jr., attorney from Libertyville, will be the district governor-elect because his nominating petition was unopposed and his verification at the state convention is a mere formality.

The sound, color motion picture of the international convention of the Lions held at Chicago last year was shown. The international convention for this year will be held at Atlantic City June 24 to 28, inclusive.

Announcement was made that an old-fashioned basket picnic for the district will be held at the Arlington Farms polo grounds July 22. The program will be devoted to children's races. A picnic committee was appointed as follows: Lions Arthur Loutsch, Morton Grove, chairman. Wilfred Seguin, Highland Park and Burton Hoffman, Barrington. This constitutes a blue ribbon committee since each member thereof is an international counselor of Lions International.

Gems of Thought

GOODNESS AND VIRTUE

There is no poverty where there is virtue, no riches where virtue is not.

—Chinese Proverb

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law.

—Galatians

There is no door through which evil can enter, and no space for evil to fill in a mind filled with goodness. Good thoughts are an impervious armor; clad therewith you are completely shielded from attacks of error of every sort.

—Mary Baker Eddy

There is never an instant's truce between virtue and vice. Goodness is the only investment that never fails.

—Thoreau

The best way to overcome evil, is to be always busy doing good.

—Bishop A. R. Beverly

Be not ashamed of thy virtues; honour's a good brooch to wear in a man's hat at all times.

—Ben Jonson

Prospect Heights girl secretary of Arlington Region youth fellowship

Susan Sigwart was elected secretary of the Youth Fellowship of the Arlington Heights region which includes membership from approximately 20 churches.

Election took place at the Youth Rally held in Des Plaines Sunday afternoon, April 15.

Auto deaths still on the increase

In their 1951 booklet of street and highway accident data, The Travelers Insurance Companies record a total of 35,500 fatalities last year compared with 31,800 in 1949.

This discouraging picture reverses a post-war trend during which, although the numbers of registered motor vehicles increased steadily, the number of persons killed annually decreased.

In 1950, there were 3,700 more persons killed than in 1949 and there were 235,800 more persons injured last year than in 1949. Among that number of injured persons, no one knows how many more might have died were not for expert medical attention given promptly. Nor does anyone know how many of those injured will spend the rest of their lives under physical handicaps which rival death itself as tragedies.

TAX FACTS

By George S. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

It appears more and more likely that the current session of the Illinois General Assembly is going to pass legislation to put a stop to the overloading of trucks using Illinois highways. Senator Wallace Thompson, President Pro Tem of the Senate, and House Speaker Warren Wood have both indicated that passage of such legislation should be a prerequisite to consideration of any gas tax increase. The Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois is for such legislation — the more stringent the better.

Under present law the maximum fine for the first offense of truck overloading is $150, for the second offense $250, and for the third or subsequent offenses $350. However, in order to convict the owner or driver for a second offense, it must be the same driver of the same truck. Habitual violators are able to escape the stiffer penalties, when a driver has been caught and convicted of overloading while driving one truck, by transferring him to another truck. S. B. 164 would prevent this. The owner would be subject to the stiffer penalties for repeated violations every time one of his trucks was found overloaded, whether it was the same truck with the same driver or not. A driver found guilty of having an overloaded truck could be prosecuted under the stiffer penalties thereafter, whether driving trucks owned by the same company or not. This bill will probably be amended to provide stiffer penalties also S. B. 167 would suspend the privilege of any operator of commercial vehicles (trucks or busses) of using Illinois highways after ten convictions for overloading during any 12 consecutive calendar months. S. B. 166 would give the state the power to seize and sell any commercial vehicle operated on Illinois highways in violation of such suspension.

Enactment of these bills, with amendments to make the fines more stringent, should stop truck overloading. The plea of the truckers that they need allowable tolerances of up to 1000 lbs. per axle to allow for load shifting in transit should be denied since all the truckers have to do to be safe under the already too high load limits is to hold their loads down to allow for such cargo shifting. The people of Illinois who want to put a stop to highway busting by overloaded trucks are urged by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois to let their State Senator and Representatives know that such protective legislation should be passed.

It also appears that there is a fair chance for an increase in truck license fees at this session of the General Assembly. The Taxpayers' Federation believes that truck license fees should be increased as a prerequisite to consideration of any motor fuel tax increase. A committee of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, headed by R. J. Morgan of the Caterpillar Tractor Company of Peoria, has made a study of the problem and recommends an increase in license fees approximately 50% as high as the increase recommended in the State Administration's S. B. 96. It is understood that an attempt will be made to amend the Administration's bill to reduce the license fee increase to the level proposed by the Illinois Chamber for the next two years, the fees then to increase to the level proposed by the State Administration unless the 1953 General Assembly makes a further change.

H. B. 170, to change the population basis for election of township supervisors in counties of 150,000 or more inhabitants, has been reported favorably by the House Committee on Municipalities and is now on the House calendar for action. Under this bill, in those counties, one supervisor would be elected for each 7500 instead of each 5000 inhabitants. Due to the population change shown by the last census, there will be a substantial increase in the number of supervisors elected in counties of 150,000 or more unless this bill is enacted. The Taxpayers' Federation has consulted organizations and individuals in each of the counties affected, and has been advised in every case to support passage of the bill.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the reign of Spirit, heaven, harmony, can be experienced only in proportion as hatred, fear, all evil beliefs, are cast out, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, next Sunday. The topic of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, April 29, is "PROBATION AFTER DEATH."

The Golden Text is from Proverbs (21:16,21): "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead . . . He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include these passages:

"I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me: for there is no saviour beside me . . . I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction." (Hos. 13:4,14).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"If the change called death destroyed the belief in sin, sickness, and death, happiness would be won at the moment of dissolution, and be forever permanent; but this is not so. Perfection is gained only by perfection . . . We cannot spend our days here in ignorance of the Science of Life, and expect to find beyond the grave a reward for this ignorance" (pp. 290, 409).

To consecrate new Methodist church at Des Plaines Sunday

Consecration of the new First Methodist church building at Graceland and Prairie aves., Des Plaines, will be performed in an impressive ritual to be read Sunday, April 29, at 3:30 p.m. by the Rev. Dr. J. Ralph Magee, Bishop of the Chicago area of the Methodist Church.

Two other services are scheduled to initiate the handsome English style Gothic building which will replace the old Methodist church at Lee and Park pl.

Camp Ground to open Tuesday at Des Plaines

May 1 again heralds the opening of Methodist Camp Ground at Des Plaines. From that date until October 1, residents of the 125 summer cottages on the grounds will take up and carry on varied activities of the season.

This will be the 92nd anniversary of the founding of the institution which, bordering the Des Plaines river, occupies 34 acres of beautiful oak groves.

While recreational and worship activities, group outings, retreats, conventions and the like are in force for the full season, the highlight of the year occurs from Sunday, July 1 through Sunday, July 15. Then the Summer Assembly and camp meeting convenes, and prominent speakers, music programs, concerts, and youth meetings are the chief fare. This year's speakers include Bishop J. Ralph Magee, Chicago; Dr. Harry Denman and Dr. Nels Ferre, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Roy L. Smith, Chicago; Dr. Charles M. Crowe, Wilmette, and many others.

Visitors and guests come from throughout the Chicagoland region and distant places. Hotels and cottages on the grounds are available for those who remain for the period or for briefer stays.

A three-day meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service takes place July 10, 11 and 12.

Gordon Humphrey wins by 3,000 votes

In the Highland Park city election A. Gordon Humphrey was elected mayor by a total of 2,995 votes. Regardless of the fact that B. F. Lewis had firmly announced his withdrawal from the candidacy for mayor, a total of 393 votes were cast for him.

Humphrey, former resident of Palatine, still maintains a law office locally.

Neighboring pastors assist in installation of Rev. Rosenberg

Thirteen pastors of Lutheran churches of this area participated Sunday afternoon in the installation to the Rev. Hilmar Th. Rosenberg as pastor of Palatine Immanuel Lutheran church.

Over 500 were in attendance at the impressive ceremony. Music was by the church choir under the direction of Paul E. Leimer. Rev. Paul Mehl delivered the sermon.

Installation was performed by the retiring pastor, the Rev. Wilbert C. Koester, assisted by the following Lutheran clergy: F. Hertwig, Schaumburg; M. Behling, Niles; K. Grotheer, Itasca; J. E. A. Mueller. and W. Zielke. Mt. Prospect; L. V. Stephan, Arlington Heights; P. Mundinger, Glencoe; F. L. Gehrs, Elk Grove; H. Heinemann, Barrington; W. Mehlberg, Roselle; W. Fechtner, West Northfield; Ernest Runge, Palatine and John M. Kempf, Home for the Aged, Arlington Heights.

Following the completion of the installation service, members of the congregation partook of pot luck supper with Rev. Mundinger as toastmaster. The entertainment included musical numbers and skits by various members of the congregation.

EXPRESSIONS of welcome and assurances of cooperation were expressed to the new pastor by the chairmen of the various church boards and committees, including Herbert Schroeder, representing the congregation; Arnold Tody, board of elders; Norman Vogel, education; Chas. Fredrichs, finance and Herman Heitman, maintenance.

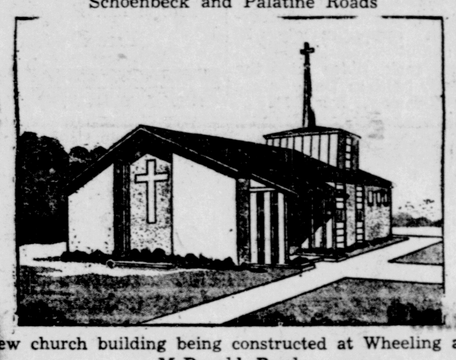

Their welcome and promises of cooperation were echoed by representatives of the other church organizations. Group singing was in charge of Mrs. Highbarger.

Pastor Rosenberg responded with very fitting remarks, showing not only that Immanuel has a devoted Christian pastor, but a leader with a fine sense of humor as well as a pleasing personality. He accepted the promises of cooperation and good wishes given him that evening and told his hearers that he is looking forward to a happy pastorate in Palatine.

Owner after owner...Year after year-says

"IT'S DODGE FOR DEPENDABILITY"

MORE MILEAGE LONGER CAR LIFE
DODGE OWNERS TESTIFY

"NOW DRIVING MY FIFTH DODGE!"
"My big 1951 Dodge is more than living up to the Dodge reputation for dependability, ruggedness and low cost of maintenance. It's the fifth dependable Dodge I've owned."
—says Geo. A. Hughes Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan

"I'VE PUT THE EQUIVALENT OF FOUR YEARS' DRIVING ON MY '50 DODGE!"
"As a salesman, my 1950 Dodge is always on the go. I figure that I have already put the equivalent of four years of average driving on it—without spending any appreciable amount of money for repairs."
—says Harry H. Hurst Houston, Texas

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

TAKE THE WORD of owners who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" . . . "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again"..."Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments in letters we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast.

Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas. There's a safe, rigid, all-steel body, rubber-mounted to eliminate rattle and squeak.

New Safer, Smoother Ride

Dodge Oriflow Shock Absorbers "float" you over roads that stop other cars, cushion vital chassis parts against road shocks . . . make them last years longer.

Take 5 minutes to check Dodge dependability in long life, extra comfort and safety, low-cost maintenance and gas economy. Come in today for the complete Dodge story.

At Illinois

By excellence in scholarship Carolyn Kraybill of Arlington Heights has achieved the distinction of membership in the group of students to whom recognition will be given at the 27th annual Honor Day Convocation to be held in the University of Illinois auditorium, Friday, May 4 at 1:15 p.m.

At Grinnell

James Schwolow, 318 W. Slade, Palatine, has been awarded a Younker scholarship at Grinnell college, President Samuel N. Stevens and the scholarship committee announced recently.

Schwolow, who attends school at Palatine township high school, achieved this distinction in competition with several hundred students from all over the U.S.

Jim ranks fifth in his class at Palatine high school.

At Carleton

Joanne Leckband, a junior at Carleton college, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norbert F. Leckband, 211 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, has been tapped for Senior Women's Honor Board, and with six classmates, who are newly-named members, was honored at a dinner in Margaret Evans dining room Monday evening, April 16.

Qualifications for the Carleton equivalent of Mortar Board, include leadership, at least a B average, and participation in extracurricular activities.

Miss Leckband is a member of the Women's League, and is co-chairman of the Carleton Service Fund.

At MIT

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, has received a copy of the Deans' list of undergraduate students of high scholastic standing from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which lists three former Arlington Heights students.

The local students who are honored are Daniel Magnus, a senior, Ronald Wiegand, a junior, and Robert Hinds, a sophomore. Students who are listed in the booklet are those with scholastic averages of 4.5 or better, with a "B" grade counted as 4 points and an "A" grade counting as 5 points.

At Illinois

Mothers of University of Illinois students will be in the spotlight in the Urbana-Champaign campus May 4-5 when campus Mothers' Day is again observed on the campus where the idea of such an observance originated in 1921. The date is a week before national Mothers' day.

The May 4 activities also will include the university's annual Honors Day Convocation at 1:15 p.m. (CDT), giving recognition to outstanding scholars, and at 3:30 p.m. the Armed Forces Honors Day which will include presentation of awards to outstanding Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets and a review of the entire ROTC—Army, Navy, and Air Force—of the university.

At Illinois Tech

Mat Merfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathais Merfeld, S. Plum Grove, Palatine, is in the cast of "All Quiet on 33rd Street," an all male musical production by the students of Illinois Institute of Technology.

A 1950 graduate of Palatine township high school, Merfeld is a freshman in the fire protection and safety engineering department of the Institute. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The musical is composed and produced by Rough Castings, a campus theatrical club. It will be presented May 1, 2, and 3 in connection with the Institute's annual Junior Week and Open House celebration.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Jeff, Tim and Bob

These smiling, brown-eyed boys are the "little men" of the R. A. Christofferson family, 4 Marberry dr., Prospect Heights.

Jeffrey, pictured first, has blond hair and is the quiet type, said Mrs. Christofferson. "But that doesn't mean he doesn't run around or get into as much mischief as the rest," she laughed.

Timothy, the baby, is 14 months old, but not too young to wear a big cowboy hat. Big brother, Robert, is seven years old and quite a student, commented his mother. He is in first grade at Prospect Heights grade school and rates reading as his favorite subject.

The boys have lots of space to play in and a variety of animals to play with. "Beauty," their Shetland pony, is the most popular animal in the neighborhood, and a much loved pet. Even little Timmy can ride her. A Chihuahua and a Dalmatian complete their list of pets.

Unusual name

This little girl may be an average youngster, but she has an unusual name. She is Thalia Leslie Wallace, two-and-one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Wallace, 820 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

"It is a family name," said Mrs. Wallace. "We've nicknamed her Tolly." Tolly likes the usual things that interest little girls and especially enjoys her time spent out of doors.

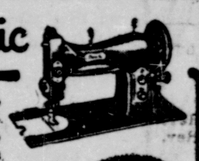

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hay of Barrington are her maternal grandparents.

Cemetery assoc. to meet

The annual meeting of the Arlington Heights Cemetery association will be held at the home of the president, Dr. B. T. Best, 412 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, at 8 p.m., May 7.

PUNISHMENT

Tests have shown that punishment should not be used with a child under the age of two, according to Childcraft child guidance experts. Expressing delight in his good accomplishments has been found to accomplish much more than finding fault.

There Is no Obligation!

In response to a recent request, Lauterburg & Oehler welcome the opportunity to disouss, confidentially, the question of prearrangements with those families who may so request.

Lessons In . . . . English

Words often misused

Do not say, "A large per cent of the profits go to charity." Say, "A large percentage of the profits goes to charity."

Unsanitary and insanitary are interchangeable, and most authorities do not indicate a preference. However, "unsanitary" is heard more often.

Do not say, "He is one of those men who makes friends easily." Say, "He is one of those men who make friends easily."

Do not say, "She has lots of beautiful dresses." It is much better to say, "She has a great many beautiful dresses."

All ready (two words) means "quite prepared," as, "We are all ready for the inspection." Already (one word) means "by this time," as, "We have already mailed the letters."

Do not say, "They could not disturb his equanimity of mind." Omit of mind. Equanimity means "evenness of mind."

Words often mispronounced

Sapience (wisdom). Pronounce the a as in say, not as in sap.

Burlesque. Accent second syllable, not the first.

Horrid. Pronounce the o as in on, not as in no.

Duty. Pronounce the u as in use, not as in rule.

Inimical. Pronounce in-imi-kal, all i's as in it, accent second syllable.

Prescience (foreknowledge). Pronounce pre-shi-ens, first e as in me, i as in it, second e as in end, accent first syllable.

Words often misspelled

Assent (consent); ascent (a rise); accent (a stress). Frontispiece; observe the first i. Intense (extreme); intents (intentions). Guarantee (that given or held as security); garnishee (to trustee). Pseudonym (a pen name); pronounced su-do-nim. Elicit (to draw out); illicit (unlawful).

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Regenerate (verb); to reform completely. "One experience will often regenerate a man."

Propitious; attended by favorable circumstances. "He waited for a propitious moment before making his announcement."

Irrevocable; incapable of being revoked; unalterable. (Accent follows the v). "The results of your actions are irrevocable."

Culpable; deserving censure or blame. "Your very presence at the scene makes you culpable."

Innuendo; insinuation. "Certain innuendoes in his speech contained a biting sarcasm."

Climactic; of the nature of a climax. "His illness has reached the climactic stage."

Bits o' business

Labor Department's wholesale price index dropped 0.1 point to 183.1 per cent of the 1926 average in the week ended April 10. This represented a post-Korean increase of 16.7 per cent. . . . Defense Production Administration authorized 11 emergency loans, totaling $15,762,973 between February 27 and April 4. . . . A manpower squeeze has developed, particularly in technical and skilled lines, and state employment offices reported 50,000 jobs unfilled. . . . Auto and truck output in the nation rose to 153,801 units in the latest week, some 13,039 above the similar 1950 period. . . . Coincidentally, one of the largest producers of motor buses announced price cuts ranging from 10 per cent to 20 per cent, the first reductions since 1946. . . . New home construction started in March was the second highest on record. . . . The nation's steel industry was preparing last week to operate at 102.9 per cent of rated capacity, a rise of 0.6 points from the previous week.

92-year-old paper reveals gold rush happenings

D. R. Hitchcock, 210 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, has brought to Paddock Publications a copy of the first issue of the Rocky Mountain News, published at Cherry Creek (Denver) Nebraska Territory, April 23, 1859. He found the copy in 1907 in an abandoned cabin three miles from Montrose, Colorado.

He has asked that the paper, with other historic material in his possession be turned over to the proposed historical room of the new Arlington Heights library if such a room is authorized.

News stories and advertisements in the Rocky Mountain News are interesting because they reveal the thinking, activities and obstacles of the gold seeking pioneers 92 years ago.

Way-Back-When is using this week's installment to publish extracts of stories appearing in the four page issue.

Advertisements

A. F. Peck, M. D. Physician and Surgeon, Cache-a-La-Poudre, Nebraska, where he may be found when not professionally engaged or digging gold.

Officer & Pusey, bankers and dealers in exchange and gold dust, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Great northern route to the gold regions, via the Chicago & Rock Island R. R. line from Chicago and the Platte Valley Route from Council Bluffs. For persons seeking the most expeditious and pleasant route to the gold regions, the above route offers superior inducement in point of time, distance, facilities for procuring outfits, etc. Two express trains leave Chicago daily running through to Iowa City, connecting with the Western Stage Company's Line of mail coaches to Council Bluffs, Fort Kearney, and which will be extended through to the mines early in the spring.

Steam Ferry, Nebraska No. 1 has capacity to carry 12 wagons and teams at each trip and has taken at one load, 300 head of cattle and can make from 30 to 40 crossings a day. Settlements and towns already extend to Ft. Kearney and with regular running of United States mail coaches to that point is no longer a wilderness route through Indian country. It can be traveled safely.

Milton Rogers, Council Bluffs, Ia. can supply 10,000 emigrants for the Gold Regions with sheet iron cook stoves, gold rockers, mining or gold pans of tin or Russia iron, camp kettles, long toms, pumps, iron skillets and bake kettles.

Two barrels of good old Magnolia whiskey for sale by Thomas Pollock.

Quick Justice

On the 7th inst. four Germans set out for their camp on Vasquer's Fork to look for cattle But one returned. He acted so strangely that he was arrested when he confessed that he had murdered his brother-in-law. A search was instituted and the body of the murdered man found, shot through the head. The murderer was placed on trial, found guilty and immediately hanged to a tree.

Want independent state

The citizens of Fountain City precinct unanimously declared in favor of a new state, advocating an entire separation from Kansas Territory and in favor of taking immediate steps towards forming a new state out of portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Utah and New Mexico.

Commendable Enterprise

We have just learned that the sum of $100 has been raised to defray the expense of exploring and marking a new road to the States. On Monday a party will set out, piloted by two experienced mountain men.

Shooting Affair

On the 16th an altercation took place beteen Capt. Bassett and J. W. Scudder, in the course of which the latter drew a revolver and shot Bassett through the body, from the effects of which he died in about 8 hours. Scudder, immediately gave himself up to the authorities, but through the connivances of some of his friends, he succeeded in making his escape before any examination could be held.

New Arrival

A train of six wagons loaded with provisions and goods has just arrived, consigned to Messrs St. Vrain & St. James. Flour is selling at $15 per 100 lbs.

Departures

Within the last three days several small boats have left here laden with returning emigrants bound for the States. P. S. Since writing the above we learn that two of the boats have been upset, their freight lost and their passengers returned to try their fortunes in the mines again.

Public Meetings

A county government was evidently in process of being formed and an election had been held, after which a meeting of citizens passed this resolution "Resolved that on account of our distance from the territorial capital and difficulty of communication with the proper authorities we the people, who are the power here, authorize the County officers recently elected to enter at once upon the discharge of their duties without waiting for the arrival of commissions from the governor of the territory."

The Returning Emigration

Recent arrivals from the east report a larger travel towards the States than in this direction.

All this has been brought about by the action of a few restless spirits who are of no advantage to any country. They arrive in the vicinity of the mining region, stop a few hours or a day or two, perhaps prospect a little in places the most unlikely in the world for finding gold, and because they cannot shovel out nuggets like they have been accustomed to dig potatoes, they raise the cry that it is all humbug, that there is no gold in the country and take the back track for home where it is to be hoped they will ever remain.

Opening Of Japan

The first page of the Rocky Mountain News attempts to cover world news.

A column is devoted to the work that Commodore Perry had accomplished four years earlier, on the visit of his fleet to Japan and its opening to Christianity.

A letter written on Nov. 30, 1858 tells about the advantages of awaiting immigrants, reading in part:

Elk, deer, antelope, ducks. Geese, Quail and turkeys found in abundance.

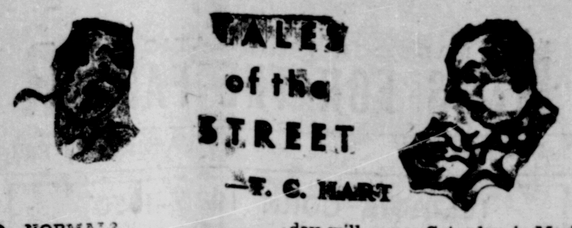

Labor is worth $1 to $2 a day.

Soil is similar to Illinois, but more sandy.

Emigrants should not be taken with "Cherry Creek yellow fever." The farmers who stay at home and spend their money to improve and cultivate their farms will realize more clear profit than those who flock to the mines. There will be enough to dig all the gold that the Union needs. Those who raise the produce will get their equal share of that gold in exchange for their produce.

Paddock Publications has been informed that in lieu of the organization of an Arlington Hts. Historical Society, that the local chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution might be interested. Assurances have been given by individual members of the library board that there will be a room available for the storing and cataloging of historical data about Arlington Heights and Cook county if there is a demand for its use for that purpose.

This paper has offered a file of "With Uncle Sam" that portrays World War II activities of boys of this area. It has also offered to turn over other historical matter in its possession.

● NORMAL?

Everyone is getting fed up with this backward spring, and yet, up to the first of the week, the records of the weather bureau showed that April had been only about two degrees a day below normal and the rainfall a fraction of an inch in excess of normal.

But following that early winter that stretched out for months, it just seemed to all of us that we must get an early spring. We didn't, however,

That beautiful Ozark spring that we hoped for failed to materialize and even a normal spring just wouldn't show up and so once again we have a late spring that is setting the farmers and gardeners far back in their work.

Last year spring was so late that oats didn't get sowed until May. This spring seems to be a repetition of last spring.

Spring came so late last year that many farmers wouldn't sow oats and switched to beans instead. Then along came one of those cool seasons and the oats did fine anyway. Corn, which is supposed to be a hot weather crop, also did well and the fellows realized good crops of both grains.

A hot dry spell, however, following a late spring can certainly cut down the oat crop, and the boys on the farms are afraid that hoping for two late springs to turn out good would be asking just a little too much. So they are wondering when the weather is going to break and give them a chance to sow some grain.

● DRAINAGE PROBLEMS

Drainage problems this wet spring are bothering not only some of the people in the village, but also a lot of folks out in the country. With so much building going on the last few years a lot of farm drain tile has been cut in digging basements with a consequent flooding of a lot of property.

Ray Holtzee, township high way commissioner, is also by virtue of his job a sort of drainage commissioner, and he says that the problem is getting to be a perplexing one in many parts of the township. He would like some help in solving it.

"If we go into the drainage business, that means money and money means more taxes," says Ray.

Mr. Holtzee will hold a public hearing on his proposed budget in June. Notice of the hearing will be duly given, and he hopes that a number of interested tax payers will turn out and say what they think. This will help him determine how to solve this drainage problem, which is getting to be one of the most vexing ones in the township.

● DOGS

The more commotion that is raised about dogs, the more dogs there are roaming around it seems.

At any rate dogs are roaming the streets and rampaging across people's property in gangs of from three to seven and nothing seems to be done about it.

It seems to us that we remember back a few years when the police department purchased some sore of butterfly net or some gadget with which they were supposed to go out and capture stray dogs.

We never saw the thing used and when we asked an officer about it at that time his reply was that he would feel foolish chasing dogs down the street with that thing.

We don't know if the police still have the thing, but a lot of people are feeling worse than foolish about all those dogs running all over everywhere. They are mad and are getting madder all the time.

Flowers and gardens will soon be growing, and a lot of damage will be done if those dogs aren't stopped.

● VERSIONS

People come back from the south with all sorts of versions about the area. Bill DePue, who has the sands of Florida in his hair, came back recently and admitted that it had been the worst winter in 50 years down there, but that it finally got lovely and the people are all enthused about the future prospects of their particular regions.

Then Frank Danielson came home. While the Danielsons had a good time, Frank thought that some of the prices charged down there "during the season" were right next door to a hold up.

And, by the way, Frank told us that he didn't see a single example of the "Southern Colonel moonshiners" that we used to talk about. Well, naturally Frank didn't see any of that gentry on his trip. He confined himself more to the beaten lanes of travel and the popular resort areas of the south.

Those fellows we used to tell him about aren't found in those walks of life. You run across them in the back country, off the beaten trails, out in the pine woods along the "draws," the rivers and the bayous. And we'll bet that they can still be found down in the back country, if you know where to look.

● UNSETTLED

Met Jerry Spottswood on the street one of those cold raw days last week and asked him when we were going to have some of that nice gulf coast weather up here.

Jerry, you know, has a farm down on the Mississippi gulf coast, and it was beautiful weather down there a few weeks back when he was down for a visit.

But Jerry's reply to our question was, "It's tough there too now judging from the weather broadcast last night. They're having some more cold weather down there too."

Well, maybe some day it will get to be spring. Let's see, the Palatine Relays are this week end, and G. A. McElroy has for years and years had some sort of a deal with the weather man. It can be winter right up to relay day and then a beautiful spring day will come. Saturday is Mac's day for the relays. Maybe this is it.

And if this isn't the break, Arlington Park, another favorite of the weather man, opens June 18, Summer is sure to be here then.

● VIOLETS

The first bouquet of sweet violets was picked in our back yard last week and the scent of them was noticeable all over the room.

These early violets have a greater fragrance than the blue woods violet and they bloom several weeks earlier.

They are also great spreaders. A neighbor gave us a small pot of them many years ago. The plant was set out in the back yard and during the years they have spread all over the place. They are blue and lavender and some are mixed in color. While smaller than the woods violet, they make a welcome spring greeting when they start to bloom.

With these hardy little flowers in bloom the regular spring flowers, such as spring beauties, hepaticas, shooting stars, Dutchman's breeches and the early wood phlox, should be coming along soon and the ground in the woods should soon be a carpet of variegated beauty.

● A MOMENTO

One of the boys who work at Arlington Park sent in a program the other day that had been found in the bottom of an old tool box.

It was a program of the racing card of July 8, 1931, 20 years ago, and it contained the names of many horses, riders and owners of that day. In the first race we noticed the name of Sazerac, a promising colt of that day from the stable of A. B. Letellier of New Orleans. In the same race was Watch Him from the stable of Mrs. J. T. Hertz and Mad Wind from the popular Le Mar stock farm stable.

In the third race was the name of Stop Gap owned by A. W. Lehman, president of the Arlington Jockey club at that time.

In the fourth race, the famous Lassie stakes, with 21 starters were a flock of the best youngsters of that day including Princess Camelia from the Joe Lester stable; Top Flight, a C. W. Whitney horse; Porter's Dream; Nevada Queen, the fastest thing of the day for about a quarter of a mile, and a lot of other young greats of that era.

In the fifth race was Battleship, River Forest, Dark Sea and other prominent names of that time.

In the last race of the day were St. Agnes, Basilicia from the Bathhouse John Coughlin stable, Dis Dame, Oslo, Our Doctor and other names well known to the race fans of 20 years ago.

The old program was yellowed with age and grease spotted from its long stay in the tool box, but it was an interesting memento of another day and recalled a vivid picture of Arlington Park 20 years ago.

Two of all those horses stand out most clearly in our memory, Stop Gap, the famous old mudder, and Nevada Queen, the greatest "morning glory" of them all.

SUITED FOR TRAVEL

Pretty Jeannine Holland, the 1951 Maid of Cotton, is suited for travel in a smart wrinkle-resistant cotton suit designed by Dorothy Cox. The rich red and brown plaid classic is a three-piecer, perfect for sunning or dancing with a strapless camisole top. On her 64,000 mile international tour for King Cotton, Maid Jeannie wears a collection of smart cotton fashions designed by 30 outstanding U. S. fashionists.

Park Ridge may change mind on rent decontrol

In a surprise move, the Park Ridge city council voted unanimously to reconsider its rent decontrol bill adopted two weeks before after Mayor Alfred P. Haake charged a property owner with "a flagrant violation of faith."

The motion to reconsider the bill actually amounts to a renewal of rent control in the city since the action puts the decontrol ordinance back up for discussion by the council.

Mayor Haake said George T. Spensley, 810 Vine, a member of the Property Owners association, raised his rents almost 50 per cent after signing a pledge he would not boost rents more than "10 to 15 per cent."

Village dump

Read with interest Tom Hart's article on "Dogs and Junk" in the Palatine Enterprise of April 13. At last we have found someone who can tell us where the "legal dumping grounds" are. We have never dumped junk or rubbish on the highways but we have lived in Palatine township for over three years and have made numerous inquiries as to the whereabouts of a legal dump from various village officials.

So you can imagine how happy we were to read your article and to learn that there is a "legal dumping ground." Will you please either phone us at Pal. 699-R-2 or drop us a card, R.R. 2, Box 363, Palatine, and let us know where the legal dump is for Palatine township.

Garden club of Illinois to tour Lincoln shrines, Walgreen estate, in May

Plans for the Fourth Illinois Garden week, presented by The Garden Club of Illinois, are complete. Tours will include visits to historic shrines and lovely homes and gardens in Springfield May 3 and 4, to the estate of Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen at Dixon at daffodil time, May 5 and 6, and to beautiful homes and gardens in Chicago's north shore suburbs. Glencoe and Winnetka, May 26 and 27. The difference in time between the first of the tours and the last, in the Chicago area, is because of the difference in season between central and northern Ill.

The Springfield and Dixon tours have been planned as a re-dedication to American ideals and the American way of life. Visits will be made to the Lincoln shrines in Springfield, including the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Garden at Lake Springfield, designed by Jens Jensen and planted by the Garden Club of Illinois, and the reconstructed village, Lincoln's New Salem.

May 5 and 6 Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen will open her beautiful estate, Hazelwood, at Dixon. Mrs. Walgreen has opened her estate for Illinois Garden Week for the past three years but never before at daffodil time, which is one of the high festivals of bloom of the year in a place famous for its fine horticultural development.

May 26 and 27 when spring has come to the northern part of our state six beautiful homes and gardens, four in Winnetka and two in Glencoe, will be opened to the tour visitors. These homes and gardens will have the added lustre of having flower arrangements put in place by Ruth Kistner of New York, famous for her work in flower arranging and one of the foremost lecturers on the art in the U. S. She has also lectured abroad and created the flower arrangements for the opening of Clarence House, the home of Princess Elizabeth.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

We used to have an old hen named Simmy. Why she was called Simmy, I do not know, though it seems like an unusual name for a hen. But she was an affectionate, motherly old girl, and when a neighbor of ours gave some duck eggs to us, we decided that Simmy was the only hen in the chicken lot to hatch those eggs.

Simmy took to the duck eggs with the same motherly affection she would have taken to her own, and when they were hatched, was she surprised! But just the same, Simmy loved 'em. She clucked over them, fed them worms, taught them all kinds of tricks that every good chicken should know, but they just wouldn't learn as they should.

Well, we had had a long dry spell that year, but when it did rain, brother, it came down in buckets full! The pot hole back of the old machine shed filled up in a hurry, and Simmy's little adopted children headed for it.

Poor old Simmy clucked and begged, coaxed and pleaded, but every last child of her babies took to the water. Then a pitiful sight happened. Old Simmy would wade out into the water till she was in danger of floating away trying to get her babies to shore, but they ignored her with that grinning, stubborn nonchalance peculiar to a bevy of quackers. We thought before the summer was over the poor old girl would go completely bereft. She lived through the ordeal, but never again was she the same old Simmy!

I was thinking about Simmy the other day, and it struck me that there are some people who do the same thing she did—and failed miserably in it. They try to make chickens out of ducks.

And they are going to fail, just like poor old Simmy, maybe with even more damage to their peace of mind.

Everyone has a talent or two that stands out in bold relief to a great many others that they don't have, or have to a limited degree. These limited talents are the ducks. And no matter how much that person may try, they cannot make much of a success out of them. They neglect the things they are talented in, and go to work trying to develop their poorer talents because they happened to get a job doing just those things when they got out of school, or because father wanted Johnny to be a lawyer instead of monkeying around with tools like he wants to do.

Life is so short, and the struggle for self gratification so terrific that driving desperately along lines for which one is not talented is foolish and wasteful. A person should follow their natural talent, even if it means that they will be poor all of their life. Generally though, the really talented man who sticks to his guns, other things being equal, will make a greater success than if he did something for which he was not talented, and will be much happier. You can't make good chickens out of ducks!

Set new date for Maine school vote

A new date for the Maine township high school bond referendum—September 29—was approved at a meeting of the Citizen's committee.

A Federal grant of $88,400 to cover costs of detailed architectural plans makes the delay advisable, it was decided by a delegation of 70 members of a citizens committee. Members are from Maine township.

It had previously been planned to bring the issue to a vote late in April or early in May.

Weekly recipes

If you enjoy unusual main dishes, you'll treasure this delightful treat. The recipe combines cottage cheese, butter cream (soured cream), and noodles in an appetizing dish which will please even the fussiest member of your family.

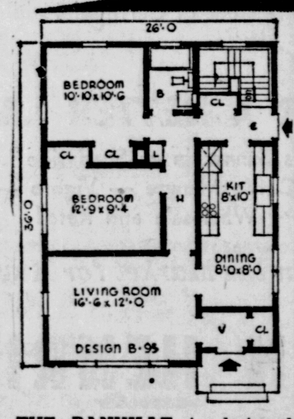

DAIRY NOODLES

8 oz. ¼" noodles.
½ lb. cottage cheese.
1 level tablespoon onion salt.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
1 teaspoon salt.
½ pint butter cream, (soured cream.)

Method: Cook noodles five minutes. Drain. Add other ingredients. Bake in open baking dish at 400 degrees, 30 minutes or until golden brown on top.

New Ideas in Homes

THE BANVILLE is designed for a narrow lot. It has two bedrooms, living room and a combination kitchen-dining room. The front entrance leads into a vestibule with a coat closet; rear entry to basement, kitchen and bedroom hall, with a closet also provided.

Kitchen cabinets are on opposite walls with double compartment sink under window, stove and refrigerator on inside wall. Dining area, at end of kitchen, has double windows and is connected with living room.

Bedrooms have ample wall space for furniture. Wardrobe type closets have storage space overhead. Central hall opens freely to all rooms.

Plans call for a frame construction with siding exterior. Hip roof is planned to have asphalt shingles.

The dimensions are 26 feet by 36 feet. The floor area is 924 square feet and cubage is 18,480 cubic feet, including full basement.

For further information about The Banville, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Survey reveals youth select TV instead of movies, books, radio

Television is growing in popularity among teen-age youth at the expense of movies, reading and radio.

This is the finding of a Northwestern University professor of education, Dr. Paul Witty, who surveyed the high school students of two Chicago area suburban communities, Oak Park and River Forest.

Prof. Witty's study revealed that 44 per cent of the students interviewed now attend movies less frequenly than before the advent of television. Fifty per cent attend with the same frequency as before, and only two per cent go to the movies more frequently.

THE NORTHWESTERN educator also found that one-third of the students read less than before TV, although the survey showed the literature to be of relatively high quality. More than 65 per cent of the students who have TV sets in their homes prefer television to radio, but some students sharply criticized the quality of current video programs.

The survey of suburban Chicago teen-agers revealed, however, that youth become less enthusiastic about television as they grow older. The most ardent televiewers are to be found among the sophomore group, with progressively less interest shown by high school juniors and seniors.

AMONG THE 64 per cent whose families own television sets, it was found that the average sophomore views TV approximately 18 hours per week, juniors about 14 hours, and seniors, 12 hours. It also was discovered that students who do not have sets in their own homes spend considerable time viewing in the homes of friends, devoting nine to 14 hours per week to TV.

Prof. Witty also sought to learn whether parents are seriously attempting to schedule televiewing so as to prevent interference with high school studies, and concluded that only 30 per cent of the students in TV-owning families maintain regular viewing schedules. Many students are permitted to view the programs irregularly, during any hours which are otherwise unoccupied. Fifty-two per cent, however, are encouraged to view TV programs only after completion of school home work.

THE SURVEYS indicated that sports programs were the most popular among high school students, with boys showing a strong preference for sports and girls being enthusiastic viewers of the Arthur Godfrey show. The 10 most popular shows, in order of preference, were athletic programs, the Milton Berle show, "Toast of the Town," the Arthur Godfrey program, the Fred Waring show, movies, "Show of Shows," Comedy Hour," and "What's My Line?" "Kukla, Fran, and Ollie" and "Garroway-at-Large" tied for tenth place favorite.

Prof. Witty found that high school teachers generally qualified their opinions on the value of TV for teen-age students. Most of the teachers generally admitted the great educational possibilities of television, but emphasized that students should spend only moderate amounts of time in televiewing and that viewing should be carefully guided and supervised.

While 64 per cent of pupils have television sets in their homes, only one-fourth of the teachers do. The teachers who own TV sets, as in the case of parents, are less critical of TV than those who do not have sets.

Teachers themselves preferred such programs as "Meet the Press," "Firestone Theater," the Fred Waring show, "Twenty Questions," and "Show of Shows," but disapproved of most currently popular murder mysteries, westerns, "inferior movies," and "cheap variety shows."

British farmers tell how they do it over there

The British were here. There were about half a dozen of them. They were workers in agricultural economics in English, Scotch and Irish universities. They are visiting in this country to learn about our methods of research, teaching and extension in farm management and marketing.

We learned something from them, too. For example, in England prices for field crops are set each February for the following year. That is, in February 1951 prices were set for crops to be harvested in 1952.

Farm representatives make recommendations on what the prices shall be, but the government Ministry of Food has the final say.

PRICES FIXED. These announced prices for crops are not support levels, but fixed prices. The farmer gets the fixed price, no less—no more.

For livestock price supports are set so that farmers know what minimum prices will be 2½ to 4½ years ahead. New minimum prices are set every two years. In February of 1950 price support levels were set for the next 4½ years. Thus farmers knew then what prices to expect until the middle of 1954. In February of 1952, prices will be set for an additional two years.

Price ceilings, rationing of meats and subsidies keep livestock prices from going above the guaranteed levels.

Farmers sometimes get less for their products than they would if they had free markets. At first they grumbled about this. Now they have learned that if the citizens put a floor under their prices they must expect to take less than free markets would pay at other times.

PRODUCTION CONTROL. The British government has the power to enforce good farming practice, but since the war it has made little use of this power. Controls are aimed at increasing output, not restricting it.

The national government sets quotas or goals. These are divided into county and community quotas. The community committees then try to decide which farmers should increase their acreage of wheat, or potatoes, for example.

Some committees have made mistakes in trying to get farmers to grow potatoes when they had neither proper land nor equipment for growing the crop.

If a farmer does a poor job, he can be put under "supervision." Then if he does not improve, he can be removed from the farm.

HUSH MONEY. The British have various kinds of "subsidies" for farmers. Large subsidies have been paid to farmers in some of the poorer regions in order "to keep them quiet."

British agriculture produces only one-third enough food for the nation. They say that the need for more production makes price and production controls necessary. In our country we claim alternating emergencies of surplus and scarcity and use them as excuses for controls.

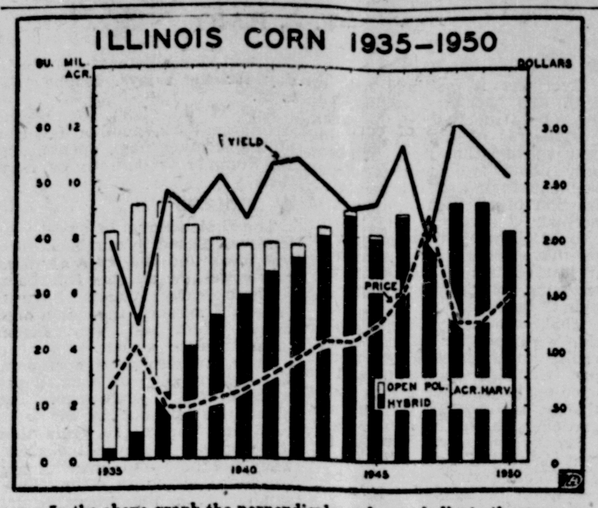

MIXED HAY

Two Greene county dairymen report that their milk production dropped 27 percent when they changed to poor-quality mixed hay.

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

In the above graph the perpendicular columns indicate the acreage in corn harvested each year by million acres; the filled portions of the columns indicate the amount of hybrid corn each year, and the unfilled portions the open pollinated breed. The solid line shows the yield per acre harvested in bushels, and the broken line shows the season average price per bushel in dollars.

SPRINGFIELD — Corn yields have followed a marked upward trend in Illinois during the last fifteen years, according to the Division of Agricultural Statistics of the State Department of Agriculture. While sharply increased mechanization and vastly greater use of fertilizer have made highly important contributions to the present yield level, the rapid adoption of improved hybrid seed has been one of the most important factors, the department said.

In 1935, practically all of the 8,195,000 acres of corn harvested were of the old open pollinated varieties—hybrid seed was planted on only 4 per cent of the corn land. The next year the hybrid acreage more than doubled, and each year since there has been a steady increase. During the last two seasons virtually 100 per cent of the Illinois corn acreage was planted with hybrid seed.

The period 1935 to date has included a few adverse years, such as the drought year of 1936, when yields were disappointing, but from a long-time view point yields have been moving upward. The average yield for the ten years ending with 1935, when hybrids were being introduced, was only 33.5 bushels per acre. By 1940, the ten year average had moved up to 37.6 bushels per acre; by 1945, it was 45.8; and the ten years ending in 1950 show an average of 51.3 bushels per acre.

Sixty-four cents per bushel was the season average price per bushel in 1935. It dropped to 45 cents in 1938, but then started a steady rise which ended with a peak of $2.22, an all-time high, in 1947. The estimate for 1950 is $1.50 per bushel.

Data reproduced in the accompanying chart are shown in the following table:

Truck farm workers are now under social security laws

On January 1 of this year, workers employed by commercial handlers and by farm cooperatives in preparing fruits and vegetables for market were brought under the insurance provisions of Federal social security, says Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the social security office at 5306 Lawrence ave., Chicago.

Prior to this year, the services of these workers were not covered under old-age and survivors insurance. The 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act, however, provide that workers in most agricultural processing operations are covered on the same basis as those in commerce and industry.

ON THE OTHER hand, if the processing of the fruits and vegetables for market is done by a farmer who has grown more than half of these commodities, his employees doing this work are now covered under social security also, but only if they meet the "regularity test." That test requires them to earn $50 cash wages and do 60 days of work on the farm in a calendar quarter, following a quarter of continuous employment with the same farmer.

If less than 50 percent of the fruits and vegetables being prepared for market were grown by the farmer, his employees would be covered by social security regardless of amount of wages and days of work.

EMPLOYERS of regular farm workers as well as employers of workers preparing fruits and vegetables for market are now required to file social security tax returns with the collector of internal revenue, Miss McGuire states. These tax returns must show the name, social security number, and the amount of wages paid to each employee in a calendar quarter. The tax which is 3 percent of covered wages, is shared equally by the operator and his employees. Form SS-4a, which can be obtained from the local social security field office or from the collector of internal revenue, should be completed by employers and mailed to the collector. The tax reporting forms will then be mailed regularly to them.

Miss McGuire says that her office at 5306 Lawrence ave., Chicago, will be glad to give further information to everyone who writes or calls.

Compare antibiotics at Swine Grower's Day

Recent experiment station results have established the fact that feeding antibiotics will stimulate the rate of growing-fattening pigs.

D. E. Becker of the swine division at the Illinois College of Agriculture says that tests have been made there to find out how the different antibiotics affect rate of gain.

Results of these tests have been reported at the annual Swine Growers' Day on the university campus in Urbana April 12.

Last fall three experiments were started to feed antibiotics at a practical rate with corn-soybean oil meal ration in dry-lot to pigs from weaning to 100 pounds. The rations were fortified with minerals and fat- and water-soluble vitamins.

The ability of antibiotics to increase growth, save feed and help to prevent scours and disease were explained in the morning program.

Pay 35 bushels an acre for costs, rest is 'take home'

It took 35 bushels of corn an acre to pay all costs of raising and selling corn in Illinois last year. Anything above that figure was "take-home" corn—profits after paying all expenses.

Farm management specialist R. H. Wilcox announced the 35-bushel cost figure today, and soils specialist A. L. Lang promptly coined the phrase, "take-home" corn.

Wilcox explained that the total cost for raising corn in Illinois in 1950 was $55 an acre. That includes planting, growing, harvesting, storing, shelling and marketing. At $1.60 a bushel, you needed 34 to 35 bushels of corn an acre to pay all costs.

WITH PRODUCTION costs mounting faster than prices, and with Uncle Sam calling for largest possible production, it's more important than ever to grow top yields this season in order to get the largest possible amount of "take-home" corn or any other crop.

Here are some money-saving ideas that can help boost your "take-home" pay for crops grown.

One tip is to choose the variety of seed for each crop that is best suited to your farm. It doesn't cost one single cent to pick the best variety of seed. But it generally costs quite a bit to boost production by fertilizing and other special practices.

True, the best seed costs a little more, but it's worth it in better stands and higher yields. Get certified seed too.

ANOTHER WAY to cut costs and boost "take-home" yields: Do as many 2-in-1 operations as possible. Pull a harrow or rotary hoe behind the plow or disk. Or pull a drill behind a disk. Or a stalk cutter and tandem disk at the same time. There are other combinations, too.

You can also work out ways to let livestock go to their feed instead of taking the feed to them. Let labor-saving equipment cut down in the long run on expensive hired labor.

Shaking pigs plague Illinois herd

"Shaking Pigs" have been reported in Illinois again. Although the shaking seldom affects a pig's growth, very young pigs sometimes are unable to suckle.

Dr. P. D. Beamer of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says one central Illinois farmer reports that about 50 of his 80 little pigs shake. The shaking started when the pigs were farrowed or soon afterward.

The shaking is due to muscular spasms, but no one knows what causes them. About 12 pigs in this herd have died, probably because the shaking keeps them from suckling enough to get adequate milk.

Dr. Beamer says this farmer has some normal litters; but in the litters that are affected, nearly all the pigs shake.

If the shaking pigs can be kept alive for a few days by helping them nurse or by hand feeding them, they can then usually suckle by themselves. Most pigs with this odd condition get over the shaking by weaning time.

Farm population reaches new low

Illinois' farm population showed another shift downward during the past ten years.

C. L. Folse, rural sociologist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, reports that a preliminary estimate of the Bureau of the Census shows there were about 855,000 persons on Illinois farms on April 1, 1950.

This number represents 9.8 percent of the 8,712,000 inhabitants of the state. Between 1940 and 1950, the number of persons on Illinois farms decreased by about 113,000 or about 13 percent.

While some of the reduction in farm population results from changes in definition by the Census Bureau, these were not entirely responsible for the total decrease, Folse points out. There has been a continuous movement of people away from Illinois farms to the cities.

The figures also show that there are about 1,096,000 persons in small villages, towns and unincorporated places of less than 2,500 people. This is about 12 percent of the total population.

During the past decade, the total population of Illinois increased by 814,759. Most of this increase occurred in the metropolitan areas of the state.

Good pasture cuts costs in beef production

For low-cost beef production, you just can't beat good legume-grass pasture.

That should be fairly common knowledge. But it isn't.

It was proved dramatically recently when nine yearling steers from the Dixon Springs Agricultural Experiment Station topped the East St. Louis market.

The steers sold at $36.25 a hundredweight. That's more than twice the $18 they had to bring to break even on cost of production.

The secret of this low-cost production is use of good legume-grass pasture. Illinois College of Agriculture livestock men figure that each acre of pasture made 300 pounds, or $108.75 worth of beef. Pasture put about half the total gain on each steer.

THE STEER calves were wintered in drylot. They got a daily ration of 12 pounds of corn silage, 5 pounds of lespedeza hay and 1 pound of soybean oil meal. Their average daily gain over 163 days was .7 pounds.

In April 1950 the steers were put on legume-grass pasture at the rate of 1 steer per acre. They gained an average of 1.53 pounds daily, or 299 pounds per steer in 196 days.

The steers were finished in drylot from November 1 to February 5. They received 15 pounds of corn and cob meal, 2.2 pounds of soybean oil meal, 4.5 pounds of corn silage, and 7 pounds of lespedeza hay. During this period they gained 200 pounds per head, or an average daily gain of 2.08 pounds.

Social security tax payments go to Int. 'Revenooer'

"All Social Security tax payments go to the Collector of Internal Revenue," Ellen McGuire, manager of the Social Security office at 5306 Lawrence ave., Chicago 30, made announcement after receiving a number of checks and money orders from farm operators and housewives who are making their first reports and tax payments this month.

At the same time she said that she is receiving many requests from newly covered employers asking for the Social Security tax report forms. "If these forms have not already been requested from the Collector of Internal Revenue in Des Plaines, it is suggested that employers go to the local offices of the Internal Revenue for them," Miss McGuire said.

The social security number of each employee should be on the employer's report before it is filed. These numbers are issued by the social security office. It takes about 10 days to issue a new card or to replace a lost card. Applications for social security cards are at all post offices. Miss McGuire urged all newly covered wage earners to get their cards now if they never had one or if they lost their card.

4-H leaders get cooking hints at county session

4-H foods clubs will swing into action after the leader-training school given by state 4-H club specialist Miss Cottingham. Fifty Cook county leaders attended the meeting held at Red Cross kitchen April 18.

The county 4-H'ers enrolled in the foods project this year are especially interested in these units: quick breads, good things with milk, and preservation of fruits and vegetables. Other available units are: yeast breads, ways of using fruits and vegetables, cookies, cakes and outdoor meals.

Proper vegetable cookery and judging techniques were emphasized by Miss Cottingham during her demonstrations. Short time, little water and uniform size are three "musts" for good vegetable cookery, she said.

COOKING vegetables only until tender will help to keep their original color, flavor and nutritive value. Use of a small amount of water—only enough to prevent burning—is recommended for cooking most vegetables. "If any juice is left over, be sure to use it in sauces, gravies or soups," reminded specialist Cottingham.

Pots that have flat bottoms, straight sides and tight-fitting covers are needed for proper cooking. Otherwise homemakers won't be able to follow the "short time, little water method" that makes vegetables tasty and nutritive.

Another part of the training school was a demonstration on relish tray arrangement. Miss Cottingham believes that color and shape combinations and placement are the main points to remember. A variety of shapes makes the relish tray attractive, she said.

TO BECOME successful cake, cookie and bread bakers, 4-H'ers will need to use good ingredients, measure them correctly and follow proper mixing methods. Choosing the right-sized mixing bowls and baking pans, and baking at the correct oven temperature are also important. Good standards were emphasized when the leaders judged cookies and custards.

During the meeting suggestions were given and questions were answered on the eight food project units. Leaders received program suggestions for each foods project unit to help them plan programs for their clubs this year.

Motor club objects to proposed 60 mile Illinois speed limit

The proposed imposition of a 60-miles-an-hour speed limit in Illinois would tend to defeat its own safety purposes, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club warned.

"After studying the question of proper speed regulations for a number of years, it is our recommendation that the speed laws be revised without fixing any maximum limit, such as 60 miles an hour, by authorizing the Department of Public Works and Buildings to declare reasonable and safe prima facie speed limits at locations where traffic and road conditions require such limits," the club experts said.

"It is our belief that under the existing Illinois law, which merely restricts speed on the open road outside of municipalities to what is 'reasonable and proper,' the average speed of vehicles is less than it would be if the law imposed a miximum limit of 50 or 60 miles per hour. We are convinced that the majority of motorists operating in areas where no signs indicating any type of speed limit are in place, drive at speeds they consider proper and that such speeds are less than the 60-mile average in the daytime and 50 at night. We believe that if the law were changed to provide that speeds greater than 60 were unlawful, motorists would be inclined to think 60 had been pronounced reasonable and safe by the legislature and the tendency would be to drive at or near that speed."

Radio program to discuss control of weeds and insects

The need of food this year makes it very important to control insects and weeds to the very best of every farmer's or gardener's ability. It has in the past been possible to control some types of weeds with various weed killers. Walter Vogl of Lake Cook Farm Supply company will discuss this very important subject Tuesday, May 1 over WKRS at 1 p.m. Mr. Vogl will tell about weed killers and the amount to apply per acre.

In an interesting report from the University of Illinois farmers have learned many insects will again be out in full force to hamper the growth of various crops. Bernie Ritezma of Des Plaines will talk on the various types of dusts or sprays the farmer or home gardener may use to kill many of these pasts.

Nurses' open house

The School of Nursing of St. Anne's hospital, Lamon ave. and Thomas st., Chicago, welcomes Junior college students and high school seniors interested in nursing to an open house tea in the nurses' home Sunday, April 29, between 3 and 5 o'clock.

There will be a film showing the many activities of nursing, a tour of the nurses' home and the hospital, and refreshments.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Shouldn't a man remove his topcoat before starting down the aisle of a church or theater?

A. Yes. He should never go down the aisle disrobing. He should remove the coat and place it across his arm before starting down the aisle. Should he forget to do so, then he should wait until he reaches his row of seats.

Q. When setting the dinner table, should the cutting edge of the knives be towards the plate or pointing in the opposite direction?

A. The cutting edge of the knife should be towards the plate.

Q. Is it proper to leave a tip in a tea room when one is waited on by the owner herself?

A. No; this is not necessary in this instance.

Q. Is it all right for a girl to offer her hand to a young man when he is introduced to her?

A. Although not customarily done, there is nothing at all improper about it if she is genuinely pleased over the introduction. However, a young man should never offer his hand first.

Q. At a buffet meal, should the women serve themselves or wait for their escorts to bring them their plates?

A. The women should serve themselves. However, if a woman's escort insists on doing the honors, it is quite all right for her to accept.

Q. Should a hostess take the men's coats when they arrive at her home, and these is no servant?

A. No. If the host is not present, she should provide a place for the men to leave their wraps as they arrive.

Q. Would it be all right for a girl to send a young man a birthday card, even though he has never sent her a card or given her a gift?

A. Yes; there is nothing at all wrong with this. This is merely a thoughtful gesture, and the young man would be presumptuous to think it anything else.

Q. Isn't it the duty of the bridegroom to buy his own wedding ring?

A. No. He should, of course, buy the wedding ring for his bride, but she should buy the bridegroom's ring.

Q. If a hostess is giving a cocktail party, and has no husband or maid, how should she serve her drinks?

A. She may ask some male guest, who is experienced, to help make the cocktails.

Q. After finishing a glass of sherbet, should the spoon be left in the glass?

A. No; it should be placed on the saucer which holds the glass.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q. How should I go about removing the paint from an old chest?

A. A hand scraper and sandpaper can be used, but care must be taken not to let the corner of the scraper gouge into the wood.

Q. I plan to re-roof my home and have been told by my roofer that the new roofing material can be laid over the present roof. Is this practice recommended?

A. Yes, there are definite advantages to laying a new material, such as fire resistant asphalt shingles, over your present roof. First, you gain the rigidity and added insulation value of a double roof. You also save the cost of removing the old roof and are spared considerable dirt both inside and outside the house. The old roof should be prepared for the new covering by nailing down loose shingles and replacing any that are missing. When laying asphalt shingles over an old wood shingle roof, nail feathering strips—slightly beveled strips of wood— along the butts of the old shingles to provide a smooth, even surface.

Q. I would like to know how to repair a kitchen chair which has become loose at the joints.

A. The best method is to take the chair apart and clean out all the old glue. Then use a good quality liquid glue, household cement or liquid solder when the chair is reassembled. Both parts of a joint should be coated.

Crocheted Dresses

Knitted or crocheted dresses should never be hung on coat hangers nor should they be folded. Instead, carefully roll them on some round object, such as a mailing tube. Cared for in this way, they will hold their shape perfectly.

ROMAN-STRIPED

This Roman-striped cotton knit blouse is ample support for the old theory, "Do as the Romans do." Colorful Roman-striped cotton combines vibrant pastel shades with black, while the ribbed waistband and cuffs echo the background shade. The gay knit blouse was created by Cober in Barbet cotton fabric.

An illuminating example of contemporary poetry

"The artist, for the most part, speaks only to other artists." Selden Rodman makes this statement in his introduction to the Mentor Book, One Hundred Modern Poems.

Why is this true, especially in poetry? Mr. Rodman, a poet himself, explains the change which turns the poet, once the interpreter of man's relation to his world, into one who speaks to other poets in this age of specialization. He traces European and American verse from Arthur Rimbaud and Rainer Maria Rilke through W. B. Yeats, D. H. Lawrence, T. S. Eliot and W. H. Auden to the original voices of this decade, Dylan Thomas and Peter Viereck.

He has collected the poems to illustrate the direction which he feels today's poetry is taking. He follows the writings from the pessimistic post-World War I days through the socially protesting thirties into the recent war years when poets accepted war as an inevitability without exultation and with the deep humility of shared responsibility.

Mr. Rodman has included several selections of poetry-as-prose, illustrating the fact that prose is sometimes more poetry than the lesser categories of verse. These include selections from Ernest Hemingway, James Joyce and Norman Mailer.

Introduced by Rodman's illuminating explanation, the reader can examine contemporary poetry as an interpretation of the time in which it was written.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, Lt. John E. Rodgers, who died in the service of his country five years ago this 29th day of April.

Johnnie, a fighter pilot with the Navy's third fleet in the Pacific and after the war a landing Signal officer, served his country well. He was liked and loved by all who knew him.

He left a little girl, Johnnie Lee, who lives at 104 N. Parkway with her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kertcher and half-sister, Sally; his two brothers, Hubert, Jr. and Pete and families, and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert P. Rodgers, of 407 Elmhurst road, all of Prospect Heights.

Gracious, gentle son,
Always sweet and kind,
You only saw the good in folks,
And to their faults were blind;
God's taken you to heaven,
Where all is joy and mirth,
But the place you left so empty,
No one can fill on earth.
Mother, Father, Brothers, and Daughter. (B4*

Don't let your evergreens die

Like the proverbial rolling stones, too many moved evergreens gather little or no moss—peat moss, that is. Many fatalities among newly planted evergreens are directly attributable to this lack. Such is the advice of Ray Landis, veteran Davey tree expert.

According to this authority, the week end gardener, sparing in his use of peat moss during transplanting operations, may be wasting his time and effort. Hardy growth and lasting results are more surely accomplished when one part of peat moss is mixed with three parts of top soil. Peat moss is not a fertilizer, but it is excellent for improving the physical texture of most soils and has an astounding capacity for holding moisture.

Besides filling around the evergreen with the proper mixture of soil and peat moss, it is equally important to prepare a very special sort of hole, says Mr. Landis. In addition to being deep enough to comfortably accommodate the ball, it should be wide enough to give a 12-inch leeway around the ball. This is to allow for adequate root development. Evergreens come from nurseries with burlapped root balls. It is not necessary to remove the burlap from around roots. The material soon will decay in the soil. However, for better watering, it is advisable to turn back the burlap from the top of the ball.

Heavy clay or compacted subsoil require deeper holes. Bottoms should be filled with layers of combined top soil and peat moss. As the hole is filled in, it is a good idea to have water running slowly from a hose. This settles the soil and eliminates air pockets that might dry out roots.

In Korea

Changing his address in Korea is Bob Stueber of Arlington Hts. It is Pfc. R. K. Stueber, 1156358, Co. C. 1st. AMTR Bn., 1st Marine Div., FMF, % FPO, San Francisco, Calif. Bob left the states March 16.

"We landed in Kobi, Japan, March 31, then went on to Pusan and on to Masan. We're about 180 miles from the front lines, and don't know when we'll be moving out.

"I'm trying to locate Dick Peterson, who must be near here, but haven't been able to as yet.

"People are really primitive here. Gook women do our laundry for 1,000 Wan (Korean money). Rate of exchange is 6,000 Wan to one dollar. Haircuts are 200 Wan and Saki or whiskey is 5,000 Wan.

"The people wait on you hand and foot. A Gook house boy cleans up and does our chores for us. There are six men in a tent heated by an oil stove. We get candy and a package of cigarettes every other day. Pipe tobacco is plentiful."

In Texas

Pvt. James P. Meehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meehan, 110 S. Haddow, Arlington Heights, was recently assigned to the Medical Replacement Training Center, a unit of Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The Medical Replacement Training Center, commanded by Colonel Howard S. McConkie, is one of Army's basic training schools for medical service enlisted men.

In Texas

Tom Griffith of Arlington Heights is now stationed at San Antonio, Texas, after enlisting two weeks ago. He is located at Lackland air base.

In Virginia

Noman H. Rohlfing of 214 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, left April 6 for service in the army. His address is Pvt. Norman H. Rohlfing, 55-164-633, Co. D. Qm. RTC, Fort Lee, Virginia.

In San Diego

Marine Pvt. First Class Robert B. Cubley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cubley of 800 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, recently completed his initial training at the Marine Corps Recruit depot, San Diego, Calif.

Upon completion of this training Cubley was promoted to the rank of Private First Class, an honor bestowed upon every man who finishes his training with a clean record.

The Arlington Heights devildog spent his first three weeks of training at the post receiving instructions on small arms, first aid, field sanitation, map and compass reading, military courtesy and infantry drill.

The following three weeks the young Marine spent at the Marine rifle range where for two weeks he was taught the fundamental principles of marksmanship and during the third week Cubly made practical use of his training by firing the Marine Corps basic weapon, the M-1 rifle for record score.

The new private first class spent his last two weeks in the Recruit Depot boning additional subjects necessary to a Marine. These include bayonet fighting, combat formations of a rifle squad, digging of fox holes and a series of field problems where practical experience was gleaned through the application of classroom work.

Cubley has been transferred to a Casual Platoon here and will soon be assigned to one of the many duty stations where Marines serve their country.

Cubley graduated from Arlington Heights high school in 1948, then went on to Purdue for two years before gaining additional education at the University of Arizona.

In Kansas

Graduation exercises were held recently for the 200 student officers who attended the third Organized Reserve Corps Division Refresher Course conducted by the Command and General Staff college at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Mapor General Horace L. McBride, Commandant of the CGSC, delivered the graduation address.

The purpose of the course was to (1) further develop the teamwork of the division staffs, (2) refresh the staffs and commanders on recent changes and developments in army organization and doctrine, and (3) give the students an opportunity to observe the instructional methods used at the college, so that they may apply these methods in the training of their own divisions.

The officers who attended the course represented 18 infantry divisions and four airborne divisions of the Organized Reserves. Officers from the 85th Infantry Division who attended the course included Lt. Col Fred N. Larsen, Jr., Route 1, Mt. Prospect, (vice-president, Habel, Armbruster & Larsen company).

In Missouri
